SPEECH OF TAFT WILL BE KEYNOTE

President Agrees to Make One Address During the Fall Campaign.

TALKING POLITICS AT BEVERLY

Warren G. Harding Held Conference With the President—Commissioner of Indians Affairs Made a Visit.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 13.—President Taft has definitely decided to accept the invitation to address the National League of Republican Clubs at Carnegie Hall, New York, on September 30th. There is a strong likelihood that this will be the President's one speech of the campaign and as he will be surrounded by a political atmosphere, it is very probable that politics will enter largely into what he has to say. The speech may prove to be a keynote for the campaign.

Lloyd C. Griscom, President of the New York County Republican Convention, is spending the night at the Taft cottage. Other than to say that he came to discuss the general situation in New York State with the President and that he would return to New York tomorrow, Mr. Griscom was uncommunicative.

Warren G. Harding, the Republican nominee for Governor of Ohio, spent more than two hours with President Taft this afternoon. He was accompanied by Senator Dick and Representative Longworth, who came to Beverly to see the candidate. Messrs. Dick and Longworth also participated in the conference with the President. It is said the leaders are keenly alive to the situation in Ohio and realize that they have the fight of their lives on their hands. They are not attempting to keep the President in ignorance of the situation. As a result it is said that the Republican campaign is being planned on a more extensive scale than at any time in the past.

Michel Angelo de Grefordio, the Italian laborer, who stepped in front of Robert Taft's automobile some time ago and was seriously hurt has been sent by President Taft happily on his way to visit his "old folks" in Italy. The man was discharged from the hospital several days ago. The President paid the hospital and doctor's bills. Mr. Taft also expressed a desire to do something additional for the man. Mr. Taft finally hit upon the plan of sending De Gregordio on a visit to his family, hoping that the trip would restore him to full strength. In addition to paying for his passage in the second cabin of the ship Mr. Taft presented him with $500, more than equivalent to a year's earnings.

The Commissioner of Indian affairs, Mr. Valentine came to Beverly today in response to a message from the President and talked with Mr. Taft regarding the Indians and their lands, taking advantage of the recent disclosures regarding the Indian lands and the public interest on the subject the President, it is said, will devote a portion of his coming message to Congress to recommendation of new laws which will securely safeguard the lands to uses of the Indians and which will cut off the possibility of any more enormous attorney's fees.

AMERICAN OARSMEN LOSE

Eight Ottawas Win the Championship of All North America.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Winners a week ago of the senior eight oar championship of Canada, the same eight Ottawas from Ottawa City today won the championship of all North America. They took first honors in the prime event of the closing day of the thirty-eighth annual regatta of the National Association on Amateur Oarsmen in a spectacular manner.

Scarcely of less importance was the victory of William Mehrhof, of New York Nassaus in the single sculls. His victory over the mighty Fred Shepherd, of the Harlems of New York, was measured by one second for the entire mile and a quarter course.

The race of the senior eights was an international event. Two Canadian crews, the Ottawas and Argonauts, of Toronto, were entered for the north, and the Potomacs, of Washington, the Vespers, of Philadelphia and the New York Athletics for the States. The American oarsmen were no match for their rivals. The real contest was between the Ottawas and the Argonauts and as at St. Catherines last week, the former crew crossed the line less than a length ahead of the latter.

S. F. Gordon, of the Vespers, had the victory in the association single sculls for seniors in his grasp all the way down the course. There were nine rivals in the field and among them was H. G. Shears, of the St. John's Rowing Club, of New Orleans.

The Arundels, of Baltimore, won the senior race for Senior four oared shells with ease, the real contest being between the two St. Louis clubs, the Mound City and the Centrals for place. The Nassau and the New York athletics were alone in the senior quadruple shell race, the former winning.

N. B. Jackes, the star of the Argonauts, won the intermediate singles for sculls in easy fashion.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 13.—Just as an excursion train bearing 250 negro moonlight excursionists came to a stop at Union Passenger Station here about 2 o'clock this morning, after a run to Durham, Seaboard Air Line passenger train No. 84, northbound, crashed into the rear coach of the excursion train, bearing death and injury, and causing the greatest consternation, the impact and crash coming without a moment's warning to the hundreds of excursionists who were just in motion to get off.

The Seaboard train, with C. F. Vaden as engineer, had in some way come in on the wrong track through the switch not having been set properly, after the entrance of the Southern excursion train. There being no watchman on duty at night, the adjustment of these switches seems to be left to the crews of the various trains.

Will Jordan, a well known grocery driver, was crushed between the passenger engine and the car on the rear platform, and died a few minuts after he had extricated himself, and one other passenger, Hugh Perry, was so badly injured internally that he died before day. The other injured are: Edward Hinton, cut over the eye; Joe Blackman, badly hurt about the stomach; Berry Gunter, cut on the mouth and shoulder mashed; Alice Evans, terribly cut about the forehead; Juanita Burnes, neck sprained; Will Harris, right arm broken; Maud Utley, left arm broken; Pattie Hinton, left arm, leg and back hurt; Francis Pool, leg sprained; Henry Johnson, injured in the back; Joe Hayes, right leg injured; Violet Wilson, hurt in the chest; B. H. Reeves and W. C. Christman, painfully hurt.

The excursion was run by C. T. Hoover, Berry Gunter, B. H. Reeves and W. C. Christmas, and only Hoover escaped injury. The Seaboard train took a new engine and went on north, after an hour's delay. The regular engine is badly wrecked.

Governor Kitchin, as commander-in-chief of the North Carolina National Guard, has authorized the formation of a division of Naval Reserves for Hertford, and the company will be mustered in Monday night by Col. R. L. Leinster, assistant adjutant general.

Col. J. Bryan Grimes is out in an interview advocating a legalized primary for both parties in the selection of candidates for State and county officer, the State to bear the expense of the primaries.

Four parties of experts holding farmers' institutes in every section of the State the past four weeks closed their work today in one and another section of the State, and all will gather here August 3rd to September 1st for the State Farmers' Convention at the A. and M. College. The attendance at the farmers' institutes this season have been the largest on record, both as to the institutes for farmers and for farmers' wives.

House wreckers began today to tear away the old two-story building on Fayetteville street, between Hargett and Morgan that is to give place to the fine Shepherd building, to be erected by S. Brown Shepherd. The frontage is 57 feet. It will be a handsome three-story structure.

The last bit of space in the new concrete agricultural and horticultural building at the State Fair grounds has been taken for the fair October 17th to 22nd. Before a great while now double day and night forces will be put to work on this building, so that it will certainly be ready in ample time.

SOLE SURVIVORS ARRIVE

After Most Exciting 388-Mile Aero Race Record.

Douai, France, Aug. 13.—LeBlanc and Aubrun, the sole survivors in the great cross-country aeroplane race of 488 miles for a prize of $20,000 reached here this evening, after one of the most exciting flights they have ever experienced. Aubrun, who started for Mescres ten minutes after LeBlanc, arrived at 6:20 P. M., 39 minutes in advance of his rival.

Both men were utterly exhausted after an almost superhuman battle with a veritable tempest. The nature of the flight can be judged by the fact that LeBlanc occupied more than three hours in covering the distance, 80.73 miles between the two points, which constituted the fourth lap in the competition.

The prize will go to the aviator, who covers the circuit in the shortest elapsed time. LeBlanc's total time for the four laps is 9 hours, 20 minutes, and 20 seconds, Augruns 10 hours, 2 minutes, 45 seconds.

BRIDAL COUPLES GALORE.

Sleeping Car "Sympathy" Leaves New Orleans With Newly Weds.

New Orleans, Aug. 13.—Through no intentional arrangement on the part of railroad officials, but purely through accident, the sleeping car "Sympathy" leaving New Orleans today over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, carried nothing but bridal couples. This car was among the several hundred which forms part of the general cheap rate excursions which the railroads run every August from the principal Southern cities to points in the North. It was when the bombardment of rice began that an investigation showed that all the occupants were on their honeymoons. They were all from rural points.

RED MEN UNABLE TO VALUE MONEY

RESULT OF INVESTIGATION

Texas Committeeman Appears Before the Committee—Indians Give Reasons for Willingness to Give Lawyers Fees.

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 14.—Witnesses testified before the Congressional Indian Land Investigating Committe today that if the Indian lands in Oklahoma were sold and the $30,000,000 proceeds were turned over to the Indians in cash, the State within ten years would be flooded with paupers.

It was asserted that many of the Indians who signed the McMurray contacts, allowing a 10 per cent "attorney's fee" to J. F. McMurray and his associates, were financially irresponsible. They would soon squander the cash, it is asserted.

Cecil A. Lyon, Republican National Committeman, of Texas, told of his financial interest in the old tribal McMurray contracts, which provided for a 10 per cent fee, but which were disapproved by President Roosevelt in 1908. He said he had talked with President Roosevelt in regard to the contract.

Asked if he had been invited by McMurray to join in the deal because of his political influence and his acquaintance with the President, Mr. Lyon said he supposed he was, but he also attributed the invitation to his business ability. It was his purpose, he said, as soon as the contracts were approved by the President, to induce the money interests of New York and London to buy the property, which included about 450,000 acres of coal and asphalt lands. As soon as the President disapproved of the contracts, said Mr. Lyons, his relations with Mr. McMurray ceased, and he was not interested in the present contracts.

Although he had signed the present contracts and was willing that McMurray should receive $3,000,000 as a fee for selling the land, and thereby rendering service which the government had promised to do without cost, J. F. Myers, Chickasaw Indian by intermarriage, declared that in his opinion many Indians would soon spend their money and could become dependent. Of the 18,000 Choctaw and the 8,000 Chickasaws who would share the money, many would collect from $5,000 to $10,000 each.

"Instead of using this money to improve the farms on which they live and which they still would retain after their surplus lands were disposed of, a great many would soon be parted from their cash. Is that not so?" asked Mr. Miller.

"Yes, in ten years a lot of them would not have anything," was the reply. "They would become paupers, and with the National government no longer to look to, would become a charge on the State."

Many Chickasaws testified they were willing to give McMurray as high as 25 per cent attorney's fees, if he would sell the land within a year.

"Do you mean to say you would be willing to pay McMurray from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 for doing something which the government has promised to do for nothing?" asked Senator Gore, of Ben Dourlan, a Chickasaw.

"Yes, we would get quick settlement."

"In the two years since these contracts have been signed, have you heard of McMurray doing anything at Washington that would hasten the sale?"

"No, but we felt he had the influence and the experience to work among the Congressmen there."

Cecil Lyon was on the stand all morning. In previous testimony D. C. McCurtain, one of the chiefs of the Choctaws, had asserted that in 1906, in the lobby of a hotel at Washington, McMurray had offered him a $25,000 bribe to withdraw opposition to the contracts. At the time the offer was made, McCurtain testified, McMurray had been talking with Mr. Lyon, but the latter had walked away.

Mr. Lyon said today if any bribery had been attempted he knew nothing about it.

NEW YORKER WAS KILLED.

Coach Encountered Cave-In While in Wyoming Park.

Mammoth Hot Springs, Wyo., Aug. 13.—While a coach load of tourists was passing through Silver Gate, three miles from here today, it encountered a cave-in and sank a distance of ten feet.

Daniel McKay, of New York, who with his wife was touring the park, was killed. Mrs. McKay received injuries, but her condition is not regarded as serious. Others bruised or suffering from the shock are J. L. Liuscimier, Miss Muller, Chicago, and W. P. Almon, of Helena, Mont.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 13.—In the second primary held today in the Tenth Congressional District to select a Democratic nominee, Gen. George W. Gordon, of Memphis, was renominated by about 2,500 majority. He is commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans.

Senator W. Murray Crane and Ex-Forester Pinchot

Senator W. Murray Crane has just returned from the West, and had an important conference with the President and others at Beverly on Friday as to political conditions in the country. The smaller picture is that of Gifford Pinchot, former Chief Forester, who is very close to ex-President Roosevelt, and who has also been looking the land over out West, as an emissary of his former chief. Politicians are wondering wherein the reports of the two will differ as to the exact situation.

DOUBLE KILLING IN THE WEST

Weaverville, N. C., Dentist Shoots Two Brothers, Following Quarrel Over Rents—Gives Himself Up to Authorities.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 13.—As the outcome of a dispute over office rent at Weaverville tonight, five miles from here, Rome and Furman Capps were almost instantly killed by Dr. Clarence Pickens, a Weaverville dentist.

All are married men. According to information tonight the trouble originated a few days ago, when Capps claimed that Pickens had not paid his rent, Capps' father owning the building. Tonight, near the woolen mill, a little south of Weaverville, the quarrel was renewed, when Pickens claims the Capps brothers set upon him violently, cutting his coat in several places, and inflicting several flesh wounds, though not dangerous, when he was forced to shoot. Weaverville is intensely excited. Pickens gave up. He had a peacable reputation. The Capps family is evidently ill-fated, this making the third brother killed within a year, Ben Morris, Jr., now serving a year's sentence for killing Joe Capps last fall, Morris claiming that Capps was trying to ransack the house. The Capps brothers live in Weaverville.

GAYNOR'S CHANCE FAVORABLE

New York Mayor Still in Danger Zone, But No Untoward Symptoms Have Developed—Bothered With Coughing Spells.

New York, Aug. 13.—The same optimism that has characterized the statements regarding the condition of Mayor Gaynor since he was shot on Tuesday by James J. Gallagher prevailed in the latest bulletins issued from St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken, tonight. Another consultation of the physicians in attendance which lasted half an hour, was followed by a bulletin, issued at 9:30 P. M., which said:

"Mayor Gaynor's condition this evening continues to be satisfactory. He has passed a restful day without pain or discomfort and no untoward symptoms have developed. W. J. Arlitz, George D. Stewart, C. N. Dowd."

Dr. Arlitz supplemented this official announcement, in a reply to a question as to the patient's condition by saying: "He is doing fine."

Other informal statements bore out the hopeful statements of the physicians. Nevertheless there still remains an undercurrent of feeling that the Mayor is in greater danger than is indicated in the official bulletins from the sick room.

Robert A. Damson, the Mayor's secretary, early in the evening announced on the authority of Dr. Stewart that his chief was much better and added that the swelling of the neck near the wound, had decreased noticeably. Comment was made to both Mr. Adamson and Dr. Stewart that the tenor of all the bulletins was practically the same, whereupon Dr. Stewart explained: "Yes, thank God, that is so."

Another examination of the Mayor's blood made at 8 P. M. by Dr. George F. Sullivan showed no indication of infection.

It was also stated by Mr. Adamson that the cough which has caused some uneasiness to the doctor, for fear that it might induce hemorrhages was better tonight. It was admitted during the day, however, that Mayor Gaynor was bothered by coughing spells.

Quiet settled down over the hospital tonight earlier than at any time since the Mayor has been a patient and shortly after 11 o'clock it was stated that the wounded man was asleep. Half an hour later the physicians also retired, leaving only Dr. Stewart in charge for the night.

Mrs. Gaynor and her son, Rufus, spent the night at the hospital as usual.

More messages of sympathy for Mayor Gaynor arrived tonight. Among them was one from former United States Senator James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, which read:

"I sincerely sympathize with you and am much gratified that you are improving and getting well rapidly."

Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 13—A young marksman from Massachusetts, private Cedric Long, and Captain Samuel W. Wise, also of Massachusetts, today won the last two matches in the Ohio programme. Private Long took the Peters Skirmish match with a possible. Corporal Harry Adams, fifteenth Cavalry, and Corporal Archie Lewellen, Marine Corps, tied at 99.

HARMON PUTS END TO BETTING RING

BETTORS HUNT BOOK-MAKERS

Sheriff Secured Abundance of Currency And Made One Arrest—Carried Out Governor's Orders. Blow to Horse Racing.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—Acting under peremptory instructions from Governor Harmon the county authorities today clamped down the "lid" on the betting ring at North Randall track, three hours before the close of the grand circuit race meeting. As a result it is predicted that the track may be permanently closed.

Sheriff A. J. Hirstius, retired from the raid with his pockets, his hat and the fullness of shirt stuffed with currency and tonight a swarm of aggrieved betters are looking through the down town streets for the book-makers armed with tickets that have not been redeemed.

Mysteriously the bookmakers learned at noon that a raid was scheduled. Bondsmen were on hand to provide bail in case arrests should be made. Nevertheless, at 3:30 o'clock when the sheriff with his deputies appeared the bookmakers were in full voice and a string of contented winners were walking past the stands engaged in cashing in. Hirstius rushed into the first booth in the betting ring and grabbed the box of money. His chief deputy made as quick work of the second and twenty others rushed down the line. The "Bookies" promptly vanished, and the ticket holders, alarmed, made haste to the grandstand. One bookmaker seized his box in fleeing, but scattered greenbacks and gold from it in his progress, which Hirstius and his assistants gathered up. The betting ring was cleared and those ticket holders who braved the law to ask their money back, were informed that the cash would be turned over to charity.

The raid today followed sharp instructions from the Governor that the law against public betting must be enforced. The orders received from him yesterday to stop bookselling resulted only in the arrest of President Devereaux, the only arrest by the way made in connection with the case.

Today, however, vested with a fuller knowledge of the government's determination, the sheriff followed his orders literally.

The sheriff said tonight that no others would be taken into custory. It is recognized that the belated raid is a serious blow at horse racing in Cleveland.

53 POLICEMEN REBELLED

Refused to Comply With Mayor's Orders As to Strike Duty.

Columbus, O., Aug. 13.—Fifty-three members of the police department within 24 hours have rebelled against Mayor Marshall's orders, to ride on street cars. The mutineers, of last night, 33, were increased tonight by 20 All of the 20 were men employed as specials for strike duty. Like the regular officers, who jutined last evening, the 20 specials were not suspended, but upon their refusal to board cars they were told that by that act, they had removed themselves from the service. Last night's mutineers were suspended today.

The mayor made no call today for the return of State troops.

Officers of the fourth regiment here, say they have been told to hold themselves ready for service, but at the adjutant general's office it is denied that preparations have been made for calling out troops.

Mayor Marshall, as he did last night, again put police on cars tonight. There were not enough officers to man all cars.

Mayor Marshall today called for 2,000 volunteers for police duty. Up to 8 o'clock, there had not been a single response to his appeal.

Sheriff Sartain this evening enrolled 12 special deputies for strike duty, when the mayor called upon him for aid. Memphis, of his office force, scoured the town and county, but were able to enlist only a dozen men.

MURDER CASE IN ANSON.

Two Currans and Rushing Given Hearing and Placed Under Bond.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Aug. 13.—Today, before Judge J. Crawford Biggs, the defendants in the Curran-Rushing-Thomas murder case, had a hearing on habeas corpus proceeding, and Judge Biggs decided to admit J. W. Curran to bail in the sum of $5,000, and Walter Curran, his son, and Brady Rushing, were required to give bond in the sum of $2,500 cash. This is the case in which J. Wilson Curran cut to death Clifford Thomas. Walter Curran and Brady Rushing were present at the time of the killing, and were therefore parties to the transaction. Mr. Curran is a very prominent farmer of Union county. The case will be tried at the September term of criminal court.

FINISH HEARINGS AT WRIGHTSVILLE

REGULARITY OF CONVENTIONS

Intimated That Decision May be That Neither Was Strictly Legal—What Further Action is Unknown—Yesterday.

The committee of distinguished party leaders appointed by Democratic State Chairman A. H. Eller to consider and report upon the unfortunate conditions in the Sixth Congressional District of North Carolina, growing out of the dual convention held at the same place three weeks ago, completed their investigation at Wrightsville Beach yesterday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock without giving still any intimation of what their decision will be with reference to the case.

It is gathered, however, from the trend of the investigation yesterday and the line of inquiry towards the last, that a majority of the committee probably incline to the opinion that neither of the conventions was strictly regular and it is believed that it will be recommended to the State Committee either that the convention be reconvened or that a primary be called in the district to determine who shall be the nominee of the party. As to the wisdom of such a course, among the party leaders at the beach from the district, there was a diversity of opinion yesterday, many declaring that such a course would serve only to intensify the bitter partisan feeling that has been engendered while still others hold that it is the only solution of the knotty problem of just what to do under all the circumstances Nothing definite, however, will be known until the special committee makes up its report and the same is submitted to the State Committee to be called together later.

The important feature of the hearing yesterday was Congressman Godwin's notification of the committee that he would abide by any recommendation that they might make while another development was that a majority of the committee had given expression to the statement that Temporary Chairman Geo. H. Bellamy, of the convention, erred in his ruling as to the protest of the vote of Cumberland and New Hanover, which action brought on all the trouble. It was also stated that the committee could not give the stamp of regularity to the manner in which Chairman Bellamy was deposed, it being held, so it is said, by the committee that had Chairman Bellamy's action warranted a deposition of that official, it should have been done on the floor of the convention and not by the Congressional Executive Committee. These and other horns of the dilemma were wrestled with for several long hours yesterday, the committee showing signs of weariness about 6 o'clock when the hearings were suspended and members of the body went into conference over the situation.

Unless something unforeseen develops, there will be no further testimony and report will be made directly to the State committee which it is presumed will be called together as soon as possible in order that the Congressional campaign in the district may be launched at once.

The witnesses in their order yesterday were Maj. Terry A. Lyon, of Cumberland, secretary of the Congressional Executive Committee and secretary of the convention which nominated Mr. Clark; Homer L. Lyon, Esq., of Columbus, who made the several motions in the convention to effect a permanent organization; ex-Sheriff Geo. B. McLeod, of Lumberton, chairman of the Robeson delegation; Mr. George Rountree, of New Hanover, a member of the Credentials Committee of the first convention, and Mr. Louis B. Hale, one of the secretaries of the convention which nominated Mr. Clark. At the afternoon session the witnesses were Hon. John D. Bellamy, of the New Hanover delegation, who was appealed to in the stress of trying to organize at the outset; ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud, chairman of the New Hanover delegation; J. Bayard Clark, manager of Mr. Clark's campaign; Marsden Bellamy, Esq., chairman of the New Hanover county convention; Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Cronly; Mr. Hines, of Harnett, and Mr. J. R. Kennedy, of Wilmington. Mr. Godwin then again went before the committee for a brief hearing and the investigation was declared closed.

A majority of the members of the committee will likely remain over at the beach for Sunday. Ex-Judge A. C. Avery, of Morganton, left last evening for his home after the deliberations. The result of the investigation will be awaited with interest.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 13.—In the second primary held today in the Tenth Congressional District to select a Democratic nominee, Gen. George W. Gordon, of Memphis, was re-nominated by about 2,500 majority. He is Commander in Chief of the United Confederate Veterans.

Score Two to One in Favor of Wilmington Yesterday — Brilliant Playing and Exciting Throughout—Fletcher on Slab.

Wilmington 2; Raleigh 1.

Where They Play Tomorrow.
Rocky Mount at Wilson.
Goldsboro at Fayetteville.
Raleigh at Wilmington.

In a game full of brilliant plays and exciting from the beginning, Wilmington took the third straight game from Raleigh yesterday, by the score of two to one, Raleigh succeeding only in putting a single tally across in the ninth on two errors and a pass. Fletcher, for the locals, pitched a no-hit game, walking only one man, while Turner, for the visitors, allowed five hits, three of which were bunched in the fourth inning, resulting in two scores.

Raleigh played an errorless game, but the Sailors were charged with three bobbles, two of them by Fletcher. The whole Wilmington line-up played star ball, making spectacular catches all over the field. The first man up, Simmons, was safe on error of Cooper, but Bigbie popped to catcher, who caught Simmons off second, and Hobbs flew to Orth. Wilmington was out in order. In Raleigh's second, Mullaney was safe on error of Fletcher, who covered first; Richardson was safe on first, but Mullaney was thrown out on second; Keating hit one to short, and the side was retired by a pretty double play., short to second to first.

In Wilmington's half Orth was out to first unassisted, and Kluttz flew to center, after which Mills singled to center, but Kite fanned. In the third Hawkins, McCormick and Turner flew out to Tydeman, Kluttz and Hoffman, respectively, all three fielders making spectacular running catches, which featured the game. In the last half, after two men were down, Hoffman was given a pass, but Cooper struck out.

In the fourth, after the Red Birds were out in order, Tydeman led off with a single to second; Orth followed with another past second, advancing Tydeman to third, and stole second himself, Tydeman scorning on a squeeze play, Kluttz being safe on first, and Orth on second. Kluttz stole second, while Mills was at bat, Mills sending a foul fly to right, which was fielded by Hawkins, and Orth scored. Kite was next up, and was out on first, Kluttz going to third on the put-out, but Dubbs also died on first, retiring the side. In the fifth, after Raleigh was out in one, two, three order, Fletcher started with a single to right, Hudson running for him, and was sacrificed to second by Hoffman. Cooper was out, short to first, advancing Hudson to third, and Tydeman, next up, was given four balls, and stole second, but Orth popped to short. There was absolutely nothing doing on either side for the next three innings, both sides being retired every time in order.

In the ninth Raleigh pushed across their only run, when Hawkins took first on an error of Fletcher, and went to second on McCormick's sacrifice. Clemmons, batting for Turner, was given transportation to first, and after Simmons had skied to Tydeman, Hawkins scored on an error of Orth, who fumbled the ball, but Kluttz recovered it and threw to third, catching Clemmons, and relayed to Dubbs, putting out Bigbie on second.

FLETCHER FLINGS.

Go ahead, Fletcher, and toot your horn,
For you're the best pitcher that ever was born.
You sure have the curves, and your old "fade-away"
Will strike out a dozen or two every day.

Did you like it.

Three—and straights.

Just like getting it from Santa Claus.

'Tis to laugh when we think of the cinch we had.

We are again getting in viewing distance of that big sign.

If anyone doesn't think that was some pitching, just ask us.

We might add that our prophecies of last Thursday have more than been fulfilled.

If there ever was a ball player tried his level best to win a game, that individual was Cooper.

Hawkins made a pretty pull down of Fletcher's fly to center in the third, after a long run from right.

Guess three straights look about as big to that Raleigh dopist now as did the six the middle of the week.

Good lands of belligerent bob cats, but wasn't that some classy catch Tidy Ty made on Hawkins' fly in the third frame? Ditto in the sixth, with variations.

Kluttz made one of those sensational stops in the third, running in nearly to first and rolling over on the ground, with the sphere securely cinched in his hand.

Little Dubbsy played a star game, knocking down apparently safe drives with a vim, and showing the smoke that will land him in the big show if he'll just bat up a little.

Seems to us that that Raleigh dopist murmured something about "six straights" about the middle of last week, or we were indulging in a day dream. Which was it, we beg to inquire?

If Hoffman didn't play the game in center, then—we plead guilty. He made several sensational catches that made the grandstand hold its breath, robbing them of apparently safe drives in nearly every inning.

Three of the prettiest catches of the season were made in the third, when Raleigh's three men went out to Tydeman, Kluttz and Hoffman, respectively, on hard chances, each fielder having a long run for the ball.

The report will be received in detail at the Electric Matinee tomorrow afternoon, and in order to keep it going the fans should crowd the room. There will be something of an interesting nature doing, you bet, and you get it all for 15 cents.

Good-bye, little Birdies. Guess you'll have to return to the Capital City shedding a few oceans of heart-broken tears, mingled with some wind-broken cuss words and submissive sighs of outlandish sizes, and we really and truly know how to sympathize with you, but it couldn't be helped. Such is life!

This morning the Sailor boys have something of the same feeling of the man who has blazed out a way through life, earned a competency, and calmly looks down the long vista to the humble past, and feasts on dreams of the automobile joy ride through the old stamping ground to surprise and humiliate his old neighbors and friends with a display of opulence and grandeur.

The rankest bone-head play of the season on the local grounds was made yesterday by Jack Hawkins, when he went after Mills' foul strike in the fourth and got it, allowing Orth to score. If he had let it alone it would have been two strikes on Mills, and Orth would have been held on third, with one chance in a thousand for Mills to get a hit on the next throw; but Hawkins couldn't see anything to do except go after it, and we suppose he expected an ovation from the grandstand for the play.

NINE INNINGS AND NO SCORE

Fayetteville and Wilson Played to Standstill Yesterday Afternoon When Rain Interferred—No Doubleheader.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 13.—It was a classy pitchers' battle between Stewart and Mayer this afternoon, "black gum against thunder" with the advantage in neither's favor, for the support given each of these stars was of the gilt-edged variety.

A doubleheader was to have been pulled off and by agreement each game was to be of seven innings provided either side scored. It resulted in nine innings being played with the score board full of ciphers. Then the rain came and the game was called for 30 minutes, after which the umpire called it off a tie. The features were the star work of McGehan, Sharpe, Mullens and O'Halloran.

BALLINGER WON'T RESIGN.

Declares He Has No Intention of Leaving Cabinet.

Klamath Falls, Oregon, Aug. 13.—"I know nothing about any resignation, and do not intend to resign. I have denied any such intention and will continue to deny it," Secretary Ballinger said tonight to a representative of the Associated Press.

"The President has never given me any intimation that he desired my resignation, and until he does I will continue as Secretary of the Interior."

That is all that Mr. Ballinger would say regarding the report from Beverly that he was to surrender his portfolia September 15th.

TWO GAMES AT ROCKY MOUNT

Railroaders Won Both by Shut-Out Score—Four to Nothing and One to Nothing—Several Spectacular Plays—Notes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 13.—Both games of today's doubleheader went to the Railroad crew, the first by a score of 4 to 0, and the second 1 to 0, the Giants being outhit in both contests.

In the first game Gunderson for the Giants was sent in and he was hit hard, four runs being made while he was at the flinging task. He was relieved by Harrel, who stemmed the batting rally begun, and let the Railroaders out with one more hit in the remaining frames. The first game was played seven innings by agreement. Startlers in spectacular plays came the way of both teams often and but for the catcher's drop of a foul fly and the batter's later having a hit it would have been a perfect exhibition in the first.

Boyle and Peartree, formerly of the Highlanders, made their debut in a Railroader uniform and both played good ball. Boyle held the Giants entirely in his grasp in the game he pitched.

In the second Leary put the only run of the game across the rubber in the sixth with a screamer to leftfield fence after two were down and thus won the game for the locals. The game was well played and both pitchers were immensely effective except with Boyce in the instance named. The game was called at the end of the sixth on account of a drenching rain.

STAUNTON SCARE OVER.

Cave-Ins No Cause for Alarm, Says Government Expert.

Staunton, Va., Aug. 13.—The cave-ins which have been occurring here during the past few days need cause no great alarm, according to a statement issued tonight by the Mayor of the city, the city manager and F. B. VanHorne, the government expert who came here from Washington to investigate the matter.

According to Mr. Van Horne, the topographic and geological conditions which have been causing the trouble, are such as will confine the cave-ins to a narrow belt, and will not injure the city materially.

Brooklyn, Aug. 13.—A 13-inning defeat and a nine-inning tie was the best Brooklyn could do in today's double-header with Pittsburg. The first game was a great pitcher's battle; neither Scanlon nor Adams allowed a run for nine innings. The final score was 3 to 2 for the first game. The second ended in darkness, with the count 8 to 8.

Chief Schnibben Delivers to Professor Withers Contents of Stomach of Young Cromwell—No New Developments.

There were no developments yesterday to throw any light on the mysterious death of young Cromwell, who lost his life in the Rock Springs Hotel fire early Wednesday morning and on account of which J. C. Holly, proprietor of the house, is being held for the next term of New Hanover county Superior Court for further investigation. Interest in the tragic death of the young man continues unabated and nearly every one has a theory that he does not mind advancing.

While all agree that the circumstances point to incendiarism and murder of the boy, no one has yet been seen who would attempt to express an opinion as to the guilty person or persons from the evidence developed at the coroner's investigation. Although the circumstantial evidence was strong and in the opinion of a great many warranted the holding of Holly for Superior Court, none are prepared to say from the testimony that he is responsible for the death of the young man. They are, however, outspoken in the opnion that if the young man met with foul play more than one person was involved and they express the belief that sooner or later the mystery will be dispelled.

Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the Wilmington Fire Department, returned yesterday morning from Raleigh, where he went the night before to take the contents of the stomach and the lungs of young Cromwell for chemical analysis by Prof. Withers, of the A. & M. College. After arriving in Raleigh Chief Schnibben went to the Yarborough House and called Prof. Withers over the telephone. Prof. Withers, who was expected to be at the union station to receive the organs, stated that he could not get down there, but that he would be up and ready to receive the same when Chief Schnibben arrived at his home. After receiving the jar containing the contents of the stomach and the lungs, Prof Withers asked Chief Schnibben for a detailed account of the fire and the facts brought out at the coroner's investigation, which was given by Mr. Schnibben. Prof. Withers stated that it would take a week or ten days to complete the analysis, when he will make report to the authorities here. There is great interest in the result of the analysis as many believe that the report of the chemist will have a decided bearing on the case.

It was learned yesterday morning that Miss Caro Cauldle, one of the boarders at the hotel, on Tuesday night gave to Holly, the proprietor, a purse containing $47 to keep for her until the followinig day. Shortly after the fire she asked Holly if he had the money and he is reported to have replied in the affirmative. But later in the day when she asked for the money she was told that it was probably burned in the hotel, as he did not have it. She did not say any more about the money, it is stated, until Friday, when the matter was reported to Captain W. P. Monroe, assistant chief of the Fire Department, who remembered having heard one of the firemen say when Holly was arrested that the latter had one purse containing $47 and also had some several dollars in another pocket. Holly stated, the fireman said, that the purse containing $47 was the property of one of the lady guests. Captain Monroe took the matter up with Jailer Branch and the money was recovered Friday afternoon.

Mr. Julian Price, an official of the Greensboro Life Insurance Company, which held the policy for $2,500 on the life of young Cromwell, spent yesterday in the city, making, it is presumed, a personal investigation of the case. He arrived in the city yesterday morning and was a guest at The Orton. He left on the 7 o'clock train for his home in Greensboro. It is understood that he held a number of conferences during the day with persons concerned in the investigation.

Mr. J. B. Jones Promoted.

Friends of Mr. J. B. Jones, formerly with the A. C. L. in this city, will be glad to know of his promotion with the Florida East Coast Railway out of St. Augustine. He went with the road about two years ago and has now been placed in charge of one of the carpenter forces of that important line.

KOONCE RENOMINATED.

Will Be Returned to Legislature From County of Onslow.

A long distance telephone message last night from Jacksonville, N. C., bore the gratifying intelligence to hundreds of friends of the genial, kindly E. M. Koonce, Esq., that he had been renominated by a majority of about 200 over two competitors for the Legislature from Onslow county. Mr. Koonce came out victoriously after a strenuous campaign, in which he appealed to the people to sustain his record in the General Assembly, which they did in a most admirable manner.

MAN LIKELY NOT J. P. WALKER

Brunswick County Desperado Has Not Been Captured in Florida, According to Telegram to Sheriff J. J. Knox.

"You need not come; man proved not to be Walker," is the wording of a telegram received in this city early yesterday afternoon from Sheriff Klannerry, of Putnam county, Florida, for Sheriff J. J. Knox, of Brunswick county, who had practically completed arrangements to go to Palatka, Fla., to identify and probably bring back to Brunwick county a man under arrest there and thought to be J. P. Walker, a desperado, wanted for the murder of Sheriff Jackson Staniand, near Shallotte, in November, 1908, and whom Sheriff Knox had been advised had been fully identified by Mr. W. M. Fryar, formerly a resident of Columbus county.

After receiving the telegram Sheriff Knox returned to his home at El Paso, and will take no further steps until something else is heard from Florida. It will be recalled by the readers of the newspapers that Walker shot and killed Sheriff Staniand, of Brunswick county, November, 1908, when the officer and party went to his home to arrest him on the charge of store-breaking. Walker was captured, however, and taken to jail at Southport. A short time later Walker and another prisoner by the name of Dudley made a murderous assault on Jailer J. B. Fountain, and effected their escape from prison. The chase for the two men, which lasted several days, will also be recalled by the reading public. Dudley was finally captured, and was tried in Brunswick county Superior Court, and sentenced to 19 months on the county roads. But Walker made good his escape.

Several times during the past year Sheriff Knox has received letters from Mr. Fryar, of Green Cove Springs, Fla., regarding Walker. Fryar was very positive in his letters that he had the man spotted in Putnam county, some 30 or 40 miles from Green Cove Springs. A month or so ago Sheriff Knox received a letter from Fryar that rather aroused his suspicions, and after that time he communicated direct with the Sheriff of Putnam county, not answering any more of the communications of Fryar. Friday afternoon the Clerk of the Superior Court of Brunswick county was notified by Fryar that Walker had been arrested and was in jail at Palatka, and asking what the Brunswick authorities desired to be done with him, also mentioning the fact that he had heard nothing from the Sheriff recently in reply to letters. This information was communicated to Sheriff Knox by telephone Friday night about 8 o'clock, but nothing was known of the arrest in Wilmington until Sheriff Knox arrived here yesterday morning on his way to Southport, to hold a conference with other county officials. Sheriff Knox wrote to Governor Kitchin, notifying him of the arrest of the man supposed to be Walker, the object being to have the Governor name some one as agent to go to Florida and investigate and identify the man. Had the telegram from the Putnam sheriff not been received, Sheriff Knox expected to leave for Florida as soon as he received instructions from Governor Kitchin. The telegram for Sheriff Knox from Florida yesterday was directed to Southport, but was forwarded to him in this city, and he received it upon arrival on the steamer Monhawk, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. After reading the telegram he abandoned the idea of making a trip to Flordia for the purpose of identifying the prisoner unless something further is received to indicate that the man is still being held and that there is strong probablity that he is the person wanted. The idea was to have the requisition papers ready, and within a few days, at most, after the officer identified the prisoner, to forward same to him in Florida.

Sheriff Knox has written several letters recently to the sheriff of Putnam county, the last letter being mailed yesterday morning, and in which he asked that the man be held, if there was any probability of his being the right person. Sheriff Knox expects an answer to this letter by telegraph either today or tomorrow. There is just a possibility that the telegram received yesterday was not sent by the Florida sheriff, but by a friend of the man who was in jail, supposed to be Walker.

A reward of $850 has been offered for the arrest and delivery to the sheriff of Brunswick county of Walker—$400 by the county of Brunswick, $250 by the State of North Carolina, $100 by Sheriff Knox, and $100 by a former business partner of the late sheriff.

TO THE FORT TODAY.

Last Chance to See Artillery Reserve in Encampment.

If the weather is at all favorable indications are that a very large crowd will go on the two trips of the steamer Wilmington to Fort Caswell today, which will be the last opportunity friends will have of visiting the artillery reserves in camp there. The first boat leaves at 9:15 A. M. and the last at 2:30. The last boat will leave the fort at 5 P. M. The fare for the round trip to Southport and Carolina Beach is only 25 cents and to the fort and return 50 cents. The annual maneuvers at the fort will terminate Monday morning and the troops will come up to the city and leave for their homes, except for the Wilmington Light Infantry, which will be at home when it gets here.

Funeral of Little Daughter.

The funeral of Maggie Bounds, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Bounds, was held from the family residence, No. 908 North Fifth street, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. G. A. Martin, pastor of Southside Bantist Church, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pallbearers were: Messrs. B. M. Hill, C. C. Harriss, G. A. Bredall and E. Rivenbark.

Satchwell, R. E. Tapp, T. C. White, Thos. F. Wood, Waddell Watters, C. W. Yates, Jr.

The umpires will be Messrs. Geo. Rountree and R. R. Stone and what players are not used for the infield will picket the outer garden.

TRIED ON TWO CHARGES.

Negro Man and Woman Given Hearing for Forgery and Larceny.

Walter Wheeler and Henrietta Hill, both colored, were tried in Justice Harriss' court yesterday morning on charges of forgery and larceny. Some days ago some one wrote an order to a lady on Tenth and Princess streets for a pair of slippers, and signed the name of Mr. R. E. Blake. The lady was suspicious, and communicated with Mr. Blake, who caused the arrest of Henrietta Hill, colored, who admitted having a part in writing the order, and implicated Walter Wheeler. A warrant charging larceny of a ring was also sworn out against the defendants. Justice Harriss, after hearing the evidence, dismissed both cases against Walter Wheeler, but held the Hill woman for the next term of Superior Court, to answer to the charge of forgery, fixing the bond at $200, which she was unable to give. The case charging larceny was dismissed. In default of the bond the woman was committed to jail.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Cases Investigated at Yesterday's Sitting.

In the Recorder's Court yesterday morning W. H. Waddell, colored, was found guilty on the charge of abandonment, and sentenced to twelve months on the county roads. The negro was arrested by Constable Savage and given preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss. Thomas K. Woody, Esq., appeared for the defendant. Cornelia Everett, colored, was sentenced to the county farm for 30 days, being convicted of drunkenness. Wesley McCan, of Lumberton, one of the negro excursionists here Friday, was found guilty of the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and was given a sentence of three months on the county roads. James Carmichael, colored, was fined $10 and costs for drunkenness. He had not paid the amount yesterday afternoon, and may go to the roads. Walter Wheeler, colored, charged with larceny of a pair of shoes from Henrietta Hill, colored, was found not guilty.

HAD HIS SHOULDER DISLOCATED.

Dr. W. D. MacMillan Painfully Injured Yesterday Afternoon.

Many friends will regret to learn that Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, had one of his shoulders dislocated yesterday shortly after noon, but will be glad to know that he was resting comfortably last night and hopes to be out again today or tomorrow. Dr. MacMillan was injured in a rather peculiar manner. He called at the home of one of his patients and rang the door bell rather quickly and rapidly, the sudden jerk dislocating his shoulder. This is the third time he has suffered a dislocation of the same shoulder and the fact that it had been dislocated twice before is probably the reason it was so easily thrown out of place again yesterday. He went immediately to his home and the dislocated shoulder was put in place, and, as stated, he was resting very comfortably last night.

Exchange of Pulpits.

Rev. C. H. Sweet, pastor of the Fourth and Church Streets Advent Christian Church, and Rev. George Shepherd, of Middle Sound, have exchanged pulpits for the morning service today. Mr. Shepherd will preach at the Fourth and Church Streets Church at 11 o'clock this morning, and as he has a large number of friends and admirers in Wilmington, he will doubtless be heard by a large congregation. The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend the service.

Swimming Race Postponed.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Tidewater Power Company had decided to withdraw the offer of prizes for swimming races, announced to be held in the sound at Wrightsville, August 20th, and add the prizes to the long list that will be offered for athletic contests to be held at the beach September 5th—Labor Day. In other words, it was decided best not to have the swimming contests on the date originally announced.

Concerts at Lumina Today.

Elaborate and unusually attractive programmes have been arranged for the concerts at Lumina, Wrightsville Beach, this afternoon and evening, and great crowds are expected to be present to hear the excellent orchestra. The afternoon concert begins at 4 o'clock and the evening concert at 8:30 o'clock. The concert tonight will begin with "The Star Spangled Banner" and will conclude with "America."

READY FOR SUPREME COURT.

Statement of Case on Appeal in Stephens Case Filed Yesterday.

The statement of appeal in the Stephens murder case was filed at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court yesterday morning by Hon. John D. Bellamy and Herbert McClammy, Esq., attorneys for the defendant. The statement covers a number of typewritten pages, and will have to be gone over by Deputy Clerk of the Superior Court W. N. Harriss, so as to certify that it is a true copy. It will then be forwarded to Raleigh. The case of Stephens comes up in Supreme Court in September. It will be recalled that he was convicted in Superior Court of the murder last Fall of E. R. Shields, and sentenced to be electrocuted, but execution of sentence was stayed by the appeal to the higher tribunal.

First Baptist Church Today.

In the absence of Miss Cannie Chasten, the regular organist, Miss Agnes Chasten will preside at the organ at the First Baptist Church for both services today. In the morning Miss Edith Foster will sing a solo, and in the evening Miss Lucy McIntosh will also render a solo.

Athletics The Victors.

The Wilmington Athletic Association was the victor in the game of base ball at 13th and Market streets yesterday afternoon, the score having been 6 to 3. Mr. Chas. Dushan, manager of the Brigade, was the umpire and the line-up was as given in yesterday's paper.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT.

Show Condition of Cotton Crop Will be Issued on August 25th.

Washington, Aug. 13—The time of issuance and scope of the September crop reports of the government were made public today by the Department of Agriculture. A report showing the condition of the cotton crop on August 25th will be issued by the crop reporting board at noon (Eastern time) Friday, September 2nd.

A crop report giving a summary of the condition on September 1st, or at the time of harvest, of corn, spring wheat, oats, barley, buckwheat, potatoes, tobacco, flax seed, rice and apples and the yield and quality of hay will be issued at 2:30 P. M. (Eastern time) September 8th.

A supplemental report, giving a summary of the condition on September 1st, or at the time of harvest, on minor crops will be issued Friday, September 9th.

NEGROES BROKE UP COURT.

By Giving Demonstration of Their Religion by Request.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 13.—Seventy negroes broke up Recorder's court proceedings late today by giving a manifestation of their "religion" in the court room.

The "doctors" of the colored sect were on trial charged with disturbing the peace when it occurred to some of them to give a demonstration of their shouting. Instantly there was a roar which could be heard for a block and dozens of negroes began rolling on the floor, while a squad of policemen rushed into the room. Several patrolmen were painfully bruised by flying legs and arms of the shouters and it took ten minutes to reestablish peace.

MAYOR JONES PASSES AWAY.

Petersburg Executive, Former Carolinian, Dies in Virginia.

Petersburg, Va., Aug. 13.—William M. Jones, who was serving his third term as Mayor of Petersburg, died at his home tonight, aged 63 years. He had been in ill health about two months. Mayor Jones was born in Raleigh, N. C., but had lived here since the "war between the States," in which he served with a North Carolina regiment of artillery and was lieutenant commander of A. P. Hill Camp, U. C. V., of this city. He was a cousin of Congressman Wm. A. Jones, of the First Virginia District. His widow and five children survive.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brookfield, Mo.—"Two years ago I was unable to do any kind of work and only weighed 118 pounds. My trouble dates back to the time that women may expect nature to bring on them the Change of Life. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel much better, and I have continued its use. I am very grateful to you for the good health I am now enjoying."—Mrs. SARAH LOUSIGNONT, 414 S. Livingston Street, Brookfield, Mo.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

SHORTAGE COVERS YEARS.

Finally Discovered and Doors of Maine Banks Closed.

Biddford, Maine, Aug. 13.—Pride in the financial standing of the institution of which he had long been treasurer and fear lest the announcement of poor investments in Western securities would hurt that standing, led Richard H. Ingersoll to make false entries in the books of the York County Savings Bank a quarter of a century ago and to continue the falsification through all the years without detection each year getting deeper into the muddle of false figures. This is the explanation given by the treasurer following the closing of the doors of the bank yesterday after a discovery of a shortage in the funds had been made by a bank examiner. That Ingersoll himself did not profit by manipulation of the accounts, was the belief tonight of bank officials. He had been treasurer of the bank for fifty years.

Treasurer Ingersoll himself is tonight at the point of death as the result, it is believed, of having taken an overdose of headache powders. He has been unconscious for two days.

The depositors in the bank number about 4,000 and are largely cotton mill employes.

Weigh Yourself Before Using.

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great fish-forming food. The wonderful sale on this preparation since first introduced in Wilmington and the remarkable results following its use have made J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, solely through the use of Samose that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marveious flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

GOVERNMENT MEN ALARMED.

At Threatening Destruction of Forest Fires in Far Northwest.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Forest fires in the Northwest, threatening destruction to human life and to millions of dollars worth of property have alarmed officials of the Interior Department and Forest Service. In response to appeals from the fire zones, additional United States soldiers are being rushed to the scenes to assist in combatting the flames.

The soldiers have been dispatched to the Cour de Alene, Idaho, Lewis and Clark, Montana, and Colville, Washington, National forests, the Flathead Indian Reservation, Montana and the Glacier National Parks, Montana. The troops have been spread over the entire fire belt and Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, of the army, has informed the Interior Department and Forest Service officials that the assistance of the army will be rendered in meeting the emergency to the limit of the number of soldiers available if necessary.

Sunday, August 14th, 1910.

The paragraphers' union has again attracted public attention to Mr. John D. Rockefeller because "he is taking a bath in whiskey each day." It calls for a "spirited" protest, because the evident curtailment of the supply, while the demand is difficult of being met, cannot be stood for. It only calls for more justification of Col. Roosevelt for jumping on malefactors of great wealth.

President Taft appears to be pleased with the reply of Aldrich to Bristow. If Aldrich's reply vindicates himself and family and the Rubber Trust, it only shifts the predatory pranks to the shoulders of other malefactors of great wealth. However, his reply admitted that the stiff tariff duty of 30 per cent on rubber goods was increased to 35 per cent, and certainly that still leaves the blame on the R-e-p-u-b-li-c-a-n party. The deed cannot be evaded although the beneficiaries might be shielded.

When the Pittsburg grafters read about the "good pickings" among the Indians in Oklahoma, they will grow green with envy and insane with greed. With attorney's fees and land loot ranging from $10,000 to $100,000, from $200,000 to $750,000 and ranging amid the fabulous figures of $5,000,000, in doing business for the Indians and "doing" the Red Men, poverty in Oklahoma would be solely due to neglect of opportunity and the exercise of a conscience that could not be induced to waver. The poverty of Senator Gore in the midst of extravagant chances makes his integrity sublime.

Peace, plenty, prosperity ,industrial development, and educational progress which has made a greater percentage of gain for the State's white and colored population than even Massachusetts can boast, are the distinguishing features of North Carolina's progress in 1910, Anno Domini. Let well enough alone. There are no conditions calling for a political upheaval in a State so serene in her progress and development. There are no reforms that cannot be trusted to North Carolina's own patriotic sons who can be relied on to protect her honor, command her in her march of progress, and guide her destiny.

Those of us who are not seeking notoriety, glory, office and "pie," pelf and the emoluments thereof, are not blindly committed to any man, any set of men, cliques, claquers, and factions the browzing ground of which is the political field. We are committed to North Carolina, her traditions, her honor and her glory. We vote for no man, we affiliate with no men, and we support no political party that ever disgraced or dishonored the Good Old North State and which never could be trusted and never can be trusted as guardian of a State which was "First at Bethel, Furthest at Gettysburg and last at appomatox"!

Senator Aldrich knew when it was time to retire. He eliminated himself but it remains for Cannon and Ballinger to be oblivious to numerous hints to absquatulate! Why, numerous hints comes from Beverly that their retirement would be the acme of wisdom at a time when "the Republican party is facing one of the most crucial campaigns in its history," as announced from President Taft's anxious seat. It is announced from Beverly, however, that Ballinger is to walk the plank September 15th and pressure is being brought on Uncle Joe to induce him to take a header into the soup. Alas! Making scapegoats of the more conspicuous malefactors will not deter the people from condemning Republicansm instead of the instruments it has used.

MAY QUIT TOBACCO PLANTING.

A rather gloomy dispatch from Mullins, S. C., is published in the Charleston Post of August 10th. It gives a discouraging view of the bright tobacco industry in northeastern South Carolina, as well as in some of the border counties of North Carolina.

The Post's dispatch says the business men of Mullins and the farmers of Marion, Horry and Dillon counties are very much disturbed over the fact that the prices of leaf tobacco are so very low. It is said that if prices remain as they are now, it is a fact beyond doubt that the crop will be almost, if not entirely, eliminated next year. "This," says the dispatch, "the farmers declare most positively will be the case, especially if cotton remains in the teens." This is also said:

"The Farmers' Union may take hold of the matter and ask the American Tobacco Company and the Imperial Tobacco Company to give better prices. It is generally believed that these two corporations control the prices absolutely. Both concerns have the nicest and costliest plants in the State at this place, and it is hoped by all that they can see their way clear to pay a decent price for tobacco. Tobacco has done much to help make this section of the State prosperous, and it is with much concern and worry, that the people of the counties mentioned view the present situation."

This gloomy foreboding concerns the production of "bright tobacco" of a quality which, it is said, cannot be produced elsewhere to such perfection as it is in several counties of South and North Carolina. The value of the South Carolina crop annually is from $4,000,0000 to $5,000,000, and North Carolina adds some milions more. The growing of bright tobacco has brought great prosperity to Columbus and Robeson counties, in North Carolina, and to Marion, Darlington and other South Carolina counties. The soil is peculiarly adapted to the production of bright tobacco which has no equal as "wrapper" goods. It has heretofore been a great money crop, and along with strawberries in the early Spring, followed a few weeks later by tobacco, and then by cotton — three money crops right along in succession — it can be conceived that no farming region in the South has been more fortunate. Therefore, it certainly would be a great disaster if the tobacco element of wealth is to be eliminated.

Mullins is the biggest tobacco market in South Carolina, the sales of leaf tobacco amounting yearly to about 10,000,000 pounds. There are five large warehouses in the town, while the American Tobacco Company and the Imperial Tobacco Company of Great Britain and Ireland have in the town mammoth "redrying" plants, each of which employ about 500 hands. There are also large tobacco warehouses at Fair Bluff, N. C., Whiteville, N. C., Fairmont, N. C., and at numerous South Carolina towns in the bright tobacco belt, so that the languishing of the industry will not only affect the production but involve property investments amounting to millions of dollars.

The sales of bright tobacco at Mullins alone amount to a money value of $1,000,000 or more each season. That town is the center of the bright tobacco belt, and from a struggling village a few years ago it has grown to a handsome town of about 3,000 inhabitants. The two big tobacco companies named have large investments in their plants there, and they also are concerned in the depreciation that may be the result if the farmers curtail production or abandon the crop. The great companies are the two big consumers of bright tobacco, and practically they have the only buyers on the markets. It is hoped, therefore, that they will bid up on the price and save an industry so important to many thousands of people and their sections and towns.

It is said prices are now about 6 cents per pound for leaf tobacco, which, however, is more or less lugs or primings. Even at the best the acreage production is about 1,000 pounds, so that tobacco at 6 cents will cut the production value to $60, while the cotton grown per acre, at present prices, is $75. It also costs from 10 to 15 per cent more to cultivate tobacco, so it can be seen that it is a losing business for the farmers. If the market does not improve, they will be compelled to abandon tobacco for cotton next year.

The American Tobacco Company and the Imperial Tobacco Company are said to be usually liberal with the tobacco growers, and the planters are depending upon them to stiffen up the prices and save the industry. Their investments and interests in the bright tobacco belt are on a very considerable scale, and no doubt they will provide a silver lining for the present cloud which darkens the bright tobacco region.

Even in frigid Alaska the people got so warmed up that they sent an insurgent delegate to Congress.

A circus is soon to visit Greensboro. Won't a circus be sort of a tame affair in the Convention City?

The idea of making "Uncle Joe" a scapegoat must strike the G. O. P. elephant with astonishment. It thought all along that he has had more size about him than that.

"Butler, Booze, Bonds and Boodle"—the Greensboro News' alliteration is, we think, both timely and appropriate.—Charlotte News.

Congressman Morehead has been made Republican State Chairman in North Carolina, but just how much more head this means in the organization remains to be seen. It has been all stomach for a long time.—Norfolk Landmark.

No other man in the world could have "come back" after all he has been through, except Marion Butler. The Republicans for the most part fear and hate him, yet he seems to have an uncanny power over them.—Winston-Salem Journal.

If the prosecution can establish its allegations in the trial for murder now being heard in Wilmington, that city will have a right to boast a prisoner whose ingenuity and nerve would put those of Dr. Crippen to the blush.—Charlotte Observer.

The talk that the Greensboro Daily News will fall through is bosh. Even if Carl Duncan decides he doesn't want to put his money into a party paper, it will be taken over by the Morehead crowd. But there will be another editor.—Winston-Salem Journal.

There are some people in North Carolina who profess to believe that S. S. McNinch, the long time Democratic pie eater, who is now running for Congress on the Republican ticket, will be elected. If he is the voters of that district are to be pitied.—Greenville (S. C.) Piedmont.

The Wilmington Star asks: "Is the day of the Raleigh News and Observer's 'stamp lickers' and 'revenue doodlers' over?" "No. Most of the 'stamp lickers' and 'revenue doodlers' got the tip from the White House, and hastened to desert Duncan. They were on the band-wagon at Greensboro, and won the victory by which Referee Duncan was displaced by Referees Morehead and Butler."—Raleigh News and Observer.

But the worst of it is that Duncan, having been licked to a frazzle, will next be jerked off of the National committee. This will break his heart. He has about been weaned from public office; now to kick him again in this way will be too mean, but they are going to fix him. Tom Settle is the man who chaperoned Morehead in the campaign two years ago, and elected him, and he is not going to submit to Duncan remaining on the committee. The truth is Tom should go on the committee himself. Or how would it do to put Butler on?—Greensboro Record (Dem.).

On Tuesday morning the Asheville Citizen carried a story that reports were in circulation in that section of the State that Morehead's adherents were offering to pay expenses for those who would attend the convention of the Republican party in Greensboro. An investigation was started to see if it was the truth, when the reporter ran into another "nest." He says he found that Duncan and his friends were up to the same tactics. It did not leak out, but came here early yesterday morning that some of the delegates, how many is not known, had had tickets furnished them, while others got money enough for board and lodging besides. It was too good to keep and some of them told it—of course, as a great secret. It was noteworthy that the convention was the largest in the history of the party—since the colored brother was put out of business—but is easily accounted for. A trip with all expenses paid appeals mightily to the man who seldom gets far from home, and makes him yell like thunder.—Greensboro Record.

It goes without saying that so far as the interests of democracy are concerned, no better choice could have been made. The great masses of North Carolinians have very little sympathy for the Cannon-Aldrich machine, and all the broken party pledges and steam roller legislation it stands for. Had the Republicans of this State arisen and selected a progressive State chairman, one who had the courage to think for himself, one who insisted that party pledges on the tariff and other vital issues should be fulfilled, no matter if such insistence placed him in ill repute with the powers at Washington, then would there have been a hard fight on hands for Democracy. The average North Carolinian holds above all other virtues the spirit of independence. It has been demonstrated in war and in peace. And there is little respect for that politician whose highest conception of public duty is to meekly vote as his lords and masters direct. The wedlock of Morehead to all that is deplorable in the national Republican party—Cannon, Aldrich, fake tariff revision, fake currency legislation, etc., etc., and the known unfitness of Butler for any office or position of trust whatsoever, gives double promise to the democratic party of even greater victory than that ever recorded.—Charlotte News.

The record of Marion Butler since his advent into the political arena will answer the question whether or not he was actuated by an unselfish purpose. First a Democrat, then a Populist, later a fusionist and finally a Republican, he has filled his sails with every promising breeze, and when it suited his purpose has deserted friends and allies to further his own interests. Witness his base betrayal of Democracy, in spite of his fervent assurance to the late Senator Vance; his violation of faith, after he had been elected to a long term in the Senate, with Judge Prichard; his mysterious abandonment of Populism; his vile design to force North Carolina to pay millions of dollars for bonds fraudulently issued by a coterie that robbed the Stae right and left in its day of sore distress. And Butler, twenty years ago an obscure lawyer, now a millionaire, comes back to North Carolina with the purpose of inflicting himself again upon a betrayed people and gratifying his own inordinate craving for political preferment. Butlerism has struck North Carolina more than one deadly blow. It has produced a chaos in the State; it has sowd seeds of class feeling that will never cease to curse the commonwealth and has fathered iniquitous legislation upon which the State yet reflects with a shudder. — Salisbury Post.

The result was the nomination of John Motley Morehead Wednesday for chief pie distributor. Whether or not Morehead, backed by Butler, will be any improvement over the Duncan crowd, remains to be seen—we believe it will not. Morehead and Butler claim that they want to "build up a respectable party in North Carolina." They have started off in a bad way to do it, in our opinion; that is, if Butler considers that he would add to the respectability of it. The following from The Morning Star, of Wilmington, gives an illustration:

"The Hon. John Motley Morehead wants "to build up a respectable party in North Carolina.' The motive is praiseworthy, but Democrats should draw the line on this invitation to become the material to be used in diluting what he considers an unfit decoction as it now stands in the crucible. Democrats should know that it is a chemical impossibility to make a 'bad egg' good by mixing a good egg with it."

There you have it. Taft, Butler and Morehead all realize that the present Republican party in North Carolina is not a respectable party, while the Greensboro News claims that Butler and his crowd are traitors, ingrates, etc. So if the whole crowd claims that each other's faction is not respectable or to be trusted, where will they get the wherewith to make it respectable. They think that by poking a liquor plank in their platform that they will draw many Democrats to their party. But we don't believe this will draw many "respectable" Democrats, for, while there are many in the Democratic party that believe prohibition is a farce, we do not believe they will go to the Republican party for relief, for with Butler at the head of the party, they know that there can be no dependence put in such a party. If the Republican party is to be reformed or to be made respectable, they selected a poor doctor to administer the dose when they made Doctor Mary Ann Butler, of fusion fame, their leader. And many Republicans know that this is true as gospel.

Now is the time for all good North Carolina Republicans to insurge and "Come back"—to the Democratic party.

The Charlotte Observer speaks of "the benefits attending the firstclass girls' school which is planned for Asheville." The girls are all first-class.

For o pie distributer who used to deliver the goods, Ex-State Republican Chairman E. C. Duncan can now consider himself eligible to the pancake brigade. He is now "as flat as a pancake."

Uncle Joe probably never expected to see the day that he would be made a scapegoat "for the G. O. P.'s sake." When he reads the news from Beverly he will realize the sad truth that a man's own family sometimes considers him "old and only in the way."

Senator Heyburn appears to have a fit when "Dixie" is played by the band. That tune should be all the more popular if it can make Heyburn "cut monkey shines" like he did at Wallace, Idaho, Thursday night. "Dixie" is getting to be a real fun-maker.

The wires tingle with information from Taft's Summer disturbance at Beverly that Ballinger is to emerge from the Cabinet September 15th. As Ballinger declared that he is "no quitter" it must be that he has been scuttled and will be allowed to sink of his own weight.

Contempt Proceedings Against Woman Involves Mr. W. H. Chadburn's Receivership.

Asheville, Aug. 5. — Judge J. C. Pritchard, in the United States Circuit Court today, issued an order to the United States marshal to arrest immediately Mrs. Nancy A. Roberts, and bring her before the court next Tuesday to receive punishment for contempt of court.

The controversy arose over an order which Judge Pritchard, sitting at Richmond, issued July 20th for Mrs. Roberts to show cause why she should not be held in contempt of court for failure to obey an injunction of the court issued during 1909, in the case of W. H. Chadburn and John H. Howald, receivers of the Kanawha Lumber Company, against Nancy A. Roberts.

The marshal personally served the papers upon her July 30th. She stated to him that if she came to court she would have to be brought. Upon her failure to apear here today, as ordered by the court, Judge Pritchard issued an order for her arrest.

This defendant is the owner of a tract of land through which a railroad belonging to the Kanawha Lumber Company is to run. The rails being the property of the corporation, the court has directed the receivers to take the same up and deliver them to the proper owners. The defendant refuses to permit the receivers to deliver this property and has threatened to use a shot gun in the event any attempt is made to interfere with the road, and is said to have used very vigorous language as to what she would do, even should an officer attempt to take and deliver the property.

The light is breaking on Chairman Eller, of the State Democratic committee. Addressing that body in Raleigh, yesterday, he is reported to have said that the enemy "is not only counting on the election of the next Governor, but actually on winning the Legislature this election and that with Butler, Holton and others looming up as possible campaign leaders the Democracy would know what to expect and should put up the most strenuous and harmonious campaign possible." This sober view of the situation in this State comes rather late, but it is well. The day for North Carolina Democrats to take things for granted is gone. It is better to face the situation as it is than to be blustering about sending a solid delegation to Congress, an accomplishment which anyone at all familiar with conditions in this State, knows is impossible. If the Democrats hold the ground they now occupy they will be doing well. No use blinking at facts.—Charlotte Chronicle.

TROOPS TO FIGHT FIRES

Two Battalions Dispatched to Fort In the West.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, has directed that two battalions of the 25th infantry be withdrawn from the maneuvres at American Lake Camp, Washington, and return immediately to Fort Wright at Spokane Wasnn., to fight forest fires along the line of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads in Western Montana, Northern Idaho and the Flat Head Indian reservation.

No more troops can be withdrawn from American Lake without abandoning the maneuvres, but General Wood said he would even do that if necessary. A pack train of army mules, equipped to penetrate the National forests, where there are no wagon roads, has been ordered out from Fort Russell at Cheyenne, Wyo., and will rendezvous at Missoula, Mont.

The warrants were issued some time ago, but were not served until yesterday.

—D. Y. Floyd yesterday morning instituted in Justice Bornemann's court proceedings against Hyman Horowitz for the non-delivery and detention of a suit of clothes. The plaintiff stated to the justice that he sent a suit of clothes to the place of business of the defendant to be pressed and the defendant claimed that he only received a pair of trousers. The case will be investigated by the justice Monday at 12 o'clock.

GAS RANGE PRESENTED.

1,262 People Attended the Cooking Demonstrations Last Week.

Last night marked the closing of the most successful and largest cooking demonstration ever held in this State, and possibly in the South. The attendance for the 11 demonstrations was 1,262 people, an average of 114 people each demonstration, including rainy days, when many were kept away on account of the weather. The ladies of Wilmington deserve much credit for the interest shown, and no doubt much good was accomplished.

While some credit must be given the Tidewater Power Company for the publicity given these demonstrations, the bulk of the credit must be divided between Mrs. Whitted and the ladies who attended. Mrs. Whitted conducted the demonstrations, as only Mrs. Whitted can. In her charming manner she simply capitvated her audiences at every lecture, and too much credit cannot be given her for the success these demonstrations attained.

Immediately after the demonstrations last night, all of the tickets deposited for the Favorite gas range were brought forward and Miss Fannie White, 612 Orange street, was the winner.

Mrs. Whitted will conduct private or home demonstrations this week, the details of which are given in the advertising columns of this paper, and she will be at the offices of the Tidewater Power Company from 3 to 5 P. M. every day, giving information relative to good cooking and instructions as to the proper use of gas ranges.

Workmen will begin Monday in preparing the handsome new offices for the Tidewater Power Company in the Woolvin building, necessitating the removal of what might properly be termed, "Cooking Headquarters" to their Front street offices.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

SIXTH DISTRICT MUDDLE.

(Raleigh News & Observer Aug. 3.

The only cloud upon the Democratic horizon in North Carolina today is the muddle over the Congressional situation in the Sixth district. Some people claim that Mr. Godwin was regularly nominated; some claim that Mr. Clark was regularly nominated; and some claim that there was no regular nomination. These three views are held by men of equal character and devotion to the Democratic party, and because independent and plain-spoken Democrats are sincere in holding these several views the solution is a difficult and delicate one.

Naturally the partisans of Godwin and Clark are standing up for the claims of their friend. Nobody blames them for this under the anomalous conditions. But the Democracy of the district and State—and the Republic as well—have an interest in this matter far greater than the interest or the claims of any candidate. The party owes Mr. Godwin nothing and it owes Mr. Clark nothing. Whether either of them is chosen is a small matter comparatively. The great matter is to preserve the harmony and success of the Democratic party in that district, to insure the election of the Democratic nominees from constable up, to make certain of a big majority in that district for the State ticket, and to make certain of the election of a Democrat from the district to the next House. These are the important matters and beside them the ambitions of Mr. Clark and Mr. Godwin and Mr. Anybody Else is of small concern, and the pride of opinion or the views of their particular friends and ardent supporters should not weigh. The way to secure these greater things is to serve the higher interests of the party and to forget the ambitions of any man or the heat of the controversy and to do justice.

Nearly every paper and every devoted Democrat in the district sees the danger in the present situation, and most of them expressed the hope that the State Democratic Executive Committee would take the matter up and devise ways for settling the conflicting claims for the good of the party and therefore for the good of the State. That hope was not misplaced. The committee, without any "ruthers" and having no favoritism, determined to take the matter up, and to that end passed this resolution:

"Moved, that a committee of five, either of members of the State Committee or of other Democrats, be appointed by the chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, which committee shall take into consideration the conflicting claims in reference to the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Sixth Congressional district, and report to the full State committee to be called together by the chairman.

"First—Whether the committee has jurisdiction in the matter.

"Second—Whether either Mr. O. L. Clark or Mr. H. L. Godwin was duly and lawfully nominated.

"Third—And if neither is found to be nominated what further action shall be taken in order to secure the nomination of a candidate."

Chairman Eller will name that committee at once and will name able men of judicial temperament, who have no predilections, and they will report the result of their investigations and conclusions to the full meeting of the committee to be called later. All Democrats in the district will welcome this investigation and give the committee all the light so that a wise conclusion may be reached. There is no doubt that the committee will do its work with no spirit except that of serving the party and that out of the present tangle a way will be found that will make the Democratic standard bearer in the Sixth district win in the November election by a large majority, and share in the glory of defeating Cannon when the next House organizes.

IRRIGATION IN ALASKA.

Some Interesting Facts Gathered in Connection With Census.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Farming by sub-irrigation and with the moisture supplied by melting ice is a novel agricultural method adopted in the interior of Alaska, according to the official report of Chief Special Agent McKenzie, who supervised the taking of the recent census in the fourth district of that territory. The system is proving surprisingly successful. Many kinds of vegetables are being grown thus rendering living conditions more tolerable in the far northern country. The future is most promising in this respect, believes Mr. McKenzie.

Not only enumerating the population, but gathering statistics on agricultural, mining and manufacturing conditions was the work of Mr. McKenzie. All the concrete facts will be given in figures which will be given out later. The census agent's remarks regarding the farming operations are most interesting. He says that some homesteads have been taken up and that on them farming is conducted on a considerable scale.

"Agriculture in this portion of Alaska is yet in its infancy," says Mr. McKenzie, "but it has arrived at such proportions as to be considered almost wonderful in its results. If all the returns are taken they will show a very remarkable condition when it is considered that it is a condition existing within the Arctic circle."

All the growth is attained between May 20 and September 15. He attributes the fact that crops ripen not only to the fact that the sun shines from 16 to 24 hours per day, but to the correlative fact that the plans are supplied with moisture from beneath, where the melting ice affords a regular and constant supply.

"Rain is practically unknown," he says, "but the necessary moisture comes from below." The thaw never extends deeper than three feet and often not farther than 15 inches, but the thaw is regular and the water supply sufficient to force a rapid growth.

Celery, lettuce, radishes, cabbages, turnips and potatoes thirve, and, Mr. McKenzie declares, they are so much better than in "the States" that the high price charged by the growers is quite justifiable. Raspberries grow to be as large around as 25 cent pieces, and blueberries and cranberries grow wild in great profusion. Experiments have been made with strawberries and grain, and while no great success is recorded the outlook is encouraging.

The dog is the favorite carrier throughout Alaska. The horse can be used only on the government trails, and the reindeer has been found to be unreliable. "As a beast of burden the reindeer has his limitations," says Mr. McKenzie, "and so far has not proven a substitute for the dog. If the reindeer wants to work he will do so, but if not so inclined he will quit wherever he may be and all the driving in the world will not get anything out of him. Horses are good only on good roads, but the dog will travel anywhere. The dog will work at any temperature while a horse cannot work below 50 degrees."

Manufacturing is confined to the city of Fairbanks. It consists largely of making tin stoves, window sashes and doors.

The total product of the mines was easily obtained by Mr. McKenzie from the banks, but it was difficult to get individual returns because of the lack of method on the part of mine owners. Very few keep books except to show the outline of production and the food purchased. "They are content," says Mr. McKenzie, "if there is a gain in their bank accounts at the end of the year."

THOMSON CHAMPION ATHLETE.

Carried Away Honors in Annual Tournament in Chicago Yesterday.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—F. C. Thomson, of Los Angeles, Cal., tonight is champion amateur all-round athlete of the world for 1910, winning that distinction at the annual tournament on Marshall Field here today. His score was 6,991 points, 400 less than that which captured the championship last year. His nearest competitor was John H. Gillis, of Van Couver, B. C., policeman, who rounded up 6,909 points.

Approximately 3,500 persons watched the bronzed followers of Hercules test their vitality, agility and endurance in the 100 yard dash, 16 pound shot put, running high jump, 880 yard walk, 16 pound hammer throw, pole vault, 120 yard hurdle race, 56 pound weight throwing, running broad jump and mile run.

No world's records were made, nor were any of the existing records in danger in any event. The showing all round was good compared with last year's results.

Five of the original entrants withdrew, among them the New Orleans athlete H. W. Fitzpatrick, who was looked upon as a possible champion. He refused to compete when he learned C. White, a negro from the University of Pennsylvania, was entered.

The best showings of the day were as follows: C. P. White, the negro athlete, led the field in the 100 yard dash and beat last year's champion, Martin Sheridan's mark of 10 3-5 seconds by 1-5 second.

F. C. Thomson, by walking the 880 yard heel and toe event in 3:44 led his competitors by several rods, but fell a second behind Sheridan's mark of last year.

Gillis beat Sheridan's last year's hammer throw by tossing the missile 126 feet, the best showing since Kielen's throw of 142.10 in 1906.

W. L. Crawley, of Chicago University, came within five inches of the world's pole vault record of 11 feet, 9 inches, and Thomson was only 3-5 second behind the world's record of 14 3-5 seconds for the 120 yard hurdle.

BRISTOW'S CLOSING SPEECH.

Ends Tour in Interest of Senator La-Follette—Features.

Portage, Wis., Aug 13.—Senator Joseph L. Bristow, of Kansas, tonight delivered his closing address in Wisconsin in the interest of Senator La-Follette. Senator Bristow scored Messrs. Aldrich and Cannon and their supporters in Congress. He explained his motive in taking the position he had on tariff revision and quoted from that portion of the Chicago platform which, he said, pledged the Republican party to a downward revision of the tariff, and he asserted that he did not propose to return to his constituency with a lie on his lips, simply because Aldrich and Cannon wanted him to do so.

Senator Bristow used the duty on lead as an example, he said, "To illustrate how the tariff had been revised in the interest of the trusts and not in the interest of the American people."

He endeavored to show the difference in duty on lead and pig lead was $12.50 per ton "doesn't this represent the cost of production at home and abroad, as the Republican party in its platform had declared should be the scale by which all protective duties should be measured." He alluded to the rubber trust and Mr. Aldrich.

EARL OF SPENCER DEAD.

Held Prominent Posts of Authority in England.

London, Aug. 13.—J. Poyntz Spencer, fifth earl of Spencer, died here today. He was born in 1835. The Earl twice held the posts of viceroy of Ireland and president of the council and was first lord of the admiralty from 1892 to 1895. Up to 1907 he was chancellor of the Victoria University.

Viscount Althourp, half brother of the Earl, succeeds to the title.

Tokio, Aug. 14.—At 6 o'clock this morning it was announced that the flood was subsiding. The casualties reported up to date are 385 dead and 500 missing. The damage to property is enormous.

RULING THE AUTOMOBILE.

Georgia Legislature Passes a Law on the Subject.

Atlanta, Aug. 13.—After September 1st, any person driving a skittish horse in Georgia, may stop an automobile by merely holding up his hand in warning to the automobile driver. Furthermore, if king horse, or even "de ole mule" still shows fright at the sound of the motor after the machine has come to a standstill, the autoist must shut off his engine until the animal power vehicle has passed. These facts came to light today in a scrutiny of the automobile regulation bill passed by the Legislature, which adjourned Wednesday.

Upon approaching a vehicle drawn by draft animals, the autoists must toot his horn or ring a bell or gong. The law is dark upon the subject of what to do if the animal thinks the tooting is too loud.

These regulations apply to riding as well as driving animals, and even the humble pedestrian is not neglected. No automobile shall approach him without giving the sprightly toot or joyous ring. The pedestrian, however, is not given the privilege of holding up his hand to stop the mogul of the roadway.

The new regulations also contain provisions designed to protect automobilists and their property.

BRITISH CRUISER AFLOAT.

The Duke of Edinburg Struck in Dense Fog—May Be Towed Off.

Portsmouth, England, Aug. 13.—The British armored cruiser Duke of Edinburg went ashore today in a dense fog on a rocky ledge off Cowes. She sent out wireless messages for assistance, which was dispatched from here. The cruiser is in a dangerous position. She carries a crew of 750 officers and men.

Portsmouth, Aug. 13.—The crew remained aboard the Duke of Edinburgh and it is hoped that the cruiser will be towed off the rocks at the full of the tide early in the morning. The sea is smooth.

The armored cruiser Duke of Edinburgh was one of the British squadron which attended the Hudson-Fulton celebration at New York last year. She is of 13,660 tons displacement, with a length of 480 feet and a heavy armament. She was built at Pembroke, in 1904.

On March 15, 1907, the Duke of Edinburgh grounded while leaving Dover harbor, but was towed off without having sustained any damage. At that time the prompt dropping of her anchors alone saved the warship from crashing into the Pow Pier. The cruiser is commanded by Captain the Hon. Robert F. Boyle.

MINE WORKERS' SQUABBLES.

Sharp Clash Between Leaders of Factions Looked For.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 13.—Squabbles between the leaders in the special national convention of the United Mine Workers are beginning to draw crowds to the convention hall, and many women are present in the galleries.

A special committee will be appointed today to take up the situation in Illinois, and will begin its work as soon as it is supplied with verbatim reports of all the conferences dealing with the Illinois wage negotiations.

The copy of these conferences is in the hands of the printers, and the combined reports, it is said, will make a volume of more than 300 pages.

The roll call by districts, delegates to express the situation in their local unions, will continue today. A clash which it is said by many will surpass yesterday's bout between National President Thomas L. Lewis and Frank Feehan, president of the Central Pennsylvania district, in personalities, is predicted when the Illinois district No. 12 is called.

THE DUKE AND MISS ELKINS

Meeting Between Them in Paris Is Likely.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The Eclaire, in its issue today, claims that Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins and her daughter, Katherine, have arrived in Paris from Baden-Baden and are staying at a hotel under assumed names.

Rooms have been reserved for the Duke of the Abruzzi, who will arrive on Saturday in company with Marquis di Negroto, his companion.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The report published in L'Eclair that Miss Katherine Elkins and her mother had arrived in Paris from Baden-Baden and were staying at a hotel here under assumed names, is not correct. Mrs. Elkins and her daughter are not expected to arrive in France until Monday

CAUGHT MUREDRER AT LAST.

Negro Wanted in Asheville Evaded Officers Two Years.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 13.—After evading capture for over two years John Goodlet, a negro wanted for the murder of his wife in this city, was arrested today at Walhalla, S. C. Goodlet confessed and he will be brought here for trial.

Goodlet shot and killed his wife two years ago in a domestic quarrel and made his escape.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—Another world's record was broken at the Grand Circuit races at North Randall Park today. The Harvester, driven by Ed Geers won the two heats of the 2:06 trot in 2:04 1-4 and 2:03 1-4, respectively, making the two fastest heats ever trotted in a race by a stallion. Incidentally the Harvester clipped one second off his own record, equalled the stallion trotting record made by Cresceus at the Brighton Beach track in 1902 and set a new mark for five year old trotting stallion in a race in the second heat.

Everett, Wash., Aug. 13.—Democrats of Minnesota may as well give up hoping that John Lind will be their gubernatorial candidate in the coming campaign, for his son, Norman Lind, of this city, says the former governor positively will not accept the nomination, make the race, or serve if elected. Former Governor Lind himself refuses to explain his stand.

IN MEMORIAM.

Entered into rest at Charlottesville, Va., one year ago today, Mrs. Patty Minor Loeb, for many years a resident of Wilmington. Beloved and grieved for by all who knew her.

"Green be the turf above thee
Friend of my better days,
None knew thee but to love thee,
None named thee but to praise."

MUSICIAN IN THE TOILS

Tried to Cash Stolen Russian Bonds and Was Arrested.

Boston, Aug. 13.—Andreu Reullow, aged 26, apparently a highly educated music teacher and writer, is held by the Federal authorities here tonight because he tried to cash fifty Russian government bonds which were identified as having been stolen from the sub-treasury at Tiflis, Russia in 1907. The number of bonds was 200 and their total value was $50,000. Ruello was held in $10,000 for a hearing on August 24, after a brief hearing today before United States Commissioner C. K. Darling. He said that the bonds were sent him by mail from Germany and that he did not steal them and no cause to believe that they had been stolen. It was his attempt to convert the securities into cash through M. A. Slobookin, a Salem street exchange broker, that led to the discovery of the bonds by U. S. secret service officials, who traced them. Slobodken is arrested charged with receiving stolen goods. Reullow says he is a native of Riga and received his education in Paris, Zurich and Italy, having left Russia in 1895. He claims to have lived in New York and Chicago before coming to Boston about a year ago.

SPAIN FACES REVOLUTION.

Lerroux Predicts Result of the Vatican Affair.

Paris, Aug. 13. — In an interview with the Madrid correspondent of the Temps, Alejandro Lerroux, chief of the Republicans at Barcelona, says that while the Republicans support Premier Canalejas, it will be impossible for him to accomplish more than a modus vivendi with the Vatican, as the Senate will block the way to a constitutional reform.

Senor Lerroux is of the opinion that Capt. Gen. Weyler, who was sent to Sebastian in anticipation of trouble there, will succeed in preventing disorders pending the return of the conservatives, but his victory will be only temporary. Spain, he declares, is heading straight for a revolution and a republic.

He attributes the change in the attitude of the king who, he says, was formerly under the influence of the queen mother and former Premier Maura, to conversations which the king had with European monarchs in England at the time of the funeral of King Edward.

SWEETHEARTS WERE SHOT.

Deed of Robbers in Attempt to Rob Apartment.

New York, Aug. 13.—Miss Etta Grossman was so seriously wounded this evening that she will probably die, and her sweetheart, Meyer Rabinowitz, was shot twice in an encounter which aroused the neighborhood.

After a number of shots had been fired policement entered the apartment and found the young woman shot through the chest and her admirer with a bullet in his neck.

The girl was unconscious and was hurried to Gouveneur hospital, but Rabinowitz was able to talk and said that while he was visiting Miss Grossman, to whom he was engaged, a stranger entered the apartment and was robbing it when Rabinowitz attacked him. The shooting followed the robber empting his revolver and then disappearing with some of the loot.

CRUISERS TO DRILL GROUNDS.

Three Sail From Hampton Roads to Join Atlantic Fleet.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 13—The armored cruisers North Carolina, Tennessee and Montana sailed today for Provincetown, following several weeks in Hampton Roads and on the Southern drill grounds, off the Virginia coast, in target practice. The Norfolk police have been given the names of ninety-five deserters from the North Carolina.

The Atlantic fleet is expected in Hampton Roads September 3rd, preliminary to its Fall target work on the Southern drill grounds.

CYCLONE IN MEDITERRANEAN

Many Fishing Boats Lost on Coast of Balearic Islands.

Madrid, Aug. 13.—Advices received here from the Island of Majorca say that a cyclone has ravaged the coast along the Mediterranean in the vicinity of Aviza, the smallest and westernmost of the three chief Balearic islands. Many fishing boats and one tug were lost with their crews

Columbus, O., Aug. 13.—The police were puzzled to explain just before midnight two slight explosions which occurred within an interval of fifteen minuts at the West Side barns. No one was injured. So far as officials of the company know, there were no explosives on the inside of the barns. The damage done was inconsequential.

OKLAHOMA BANKS ABANDONING GUARANTEE PLAN.

Washington, Aug. 3.—According to information received here, Oklahoma banks are finding the bank guarantee plan unsatisfactory and a number are now changing back to the national system. In all about 150 national banks in Oklahoma adopted the bank guarantee plan when it was started, so that it will take a good deal of time to complete the transfer of these institutions back again to the national system should all of them determine to return to their old allegiance. One bank has sent a circular characterizing the State Guarantee Law as burdensome without adding anything to the stability of the bank.

ADMINISTRATION'S RECORD

Republican Candidates for Congress and Basis Upon Which They Ask for Re-election—Tariff and Postal Banks—Notes.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner.)

Washington, Aug. 13.—All over the land the regular Republican candidates for Congress are preparing to ask for election or re-election on the record of President Taft and the last Congress.

Aside from the tariff revision, with which the public is already familiar, the predominating features of the platform on which the standpatters will make their final desperate stand are the postal bank bill and the so-called railroad regulation bill.

The railroad bill as passed was better than existing law, improvements having been forced by Democrats and insurgents. The original draft was one of the most vicious pieces of legislation proposed in Congress in years. President Taft sent this bill to Congress with his personal endorsement and asked that it be passed without amendment.

It provided for a commerce court which would have destroyed the usefulness of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and made appeal to the higher tribunals impossible.

It took the railroads from under the anti-trust law, and would have permitted them to make what rates they pleased without any effecive check.

It legalized existing mergers between existing lines; it contained a joker provision to regulate the issuing of railroad securities

The Democrats and Insurgents forced some improvements, but were prevented by administration influences from putting in provisions which would have been of real value to the people, such as physical valuation of of the roads as a basis of rate regulation.

Such was the railroad bill that would have become law had President Taft had his way.

Congress passed the kind of postal savings bank bill that Mr. Taft wanted. The effect will be, it is thought by those who have given study to the act as passed, to drain local communities of the money deposited in postal savings banks. Had the Democrats and Insurgents had their way, the postal bank bill such as was desired by the people would have been passed. But through the influence of the administration, Aldrich was able to thwart the will of the people, and to secure the passage of a bill which will give Wall street the control of the people's money as never before.

Still another feature of the Taft record is the tariff commission law, also a gold brick. It creates a Commission without powers, and gives the special interests $250,000 of the people's money to carry on the campaign against revision of the tariff on the basis of equalization of the cost of production at home and abroad.

Ex-Forester Gifford Pinchot has ideas on other lines beside conservation. At a dinner given recently he declared that the Nation had lost confidence in Congress because it represented special interests rather than the people. Continuing, he said:

"And of this there could be no better illustration than the traiff. The Tariff, under the policy of protection, was originally a means to raise the rate of wages. It has been made a tool to increase the cost of living.

"The cotton cloth schedule was increased in the face of the uncontradicted public testimony of the manufacturers themselves that it ought to remain unchanged.

"The steel interests by a trick secured an indefensible increase in the tariff on structural steel.

"The sugar trust stole from the government like a petty thief, yet Congress, by means of a dishonest schedule, continues to protect it in bleeding the public." (Republican papers please copy.)

Representative Charles E. Littlefield of Maine, now admits that the plank in the last Republican National platform regarding injunctions was put there to placate the labor leaders and with no intention of its being carried out. He carries his frankness to an even greater extent and says the plank is "perfectly non-committal" and means nothing, being simply a dishonest trick to lure the unwary workingman and delude him wth the belief that the Republican party was his friend. If the truth was told, it would no doubt reveal that the tariff revision plank was another dishonest plank, never intended of fulfillment, and that the whole platform was a tissue of falsehood and false pretense.

The bill providing publicity for campaign expenditures and contributions passed at the last session and signed by President Taft, is not what the people have for years been demanding.

The House provided for publicity before election, but the Senate refused to pass such a measure and as a result of a conference publicity will not be made until after the elections have taken place.

What's the use of publicity after an election, when what has been done cannot be undone?

Publicity before an election would seem to be the only kind of publicity worth anything, for then the voters would be given timely notice as to which party and candidates were of, by and for the trusts, and which were of, for and by the people.

The recent attempt to corrupt Senator Tom Gore, of Oklahoma, was accompanied by features most distressing to the blind statesman. Gore has felt the sting of poverty in its bitterest forms. Even now he has nothing but his salary. The person who he says offered him $25,000 to change his position on the Indian legislation was a personal friend of long standing. This man knew Gore had often suffered from sheer want. But Gore was not for sale.

HISTORICAL PENDER COUNTY

Address by Rivers D. Johnson, Esq., Upon Ocasion of Farmers and Educational Rally at Rocky Point on Thursday.

Addressing the Farmers' Rally at Burgaw Thursday Hon. Rivers D. Johnson said in part:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

My coming here today is the joint resolution of my desire to do myself the honor of addressing the people of Pender county and showing my love and respect for the sentiments they cherish. As we gather here today surrounded on every hand by our friends and neighbors it is well that I should review with you some of your earlier history of which you all should be especially proud because that history has entered into your bones and blood and made you what you are today, good men and fair women, brave men and virtuous women which is the fairest heritage any land can hope to gain for posterity.

It is a far cry back to the year 1663 but on a sun-kissed day the worthy Capt. Hilton sailed up the placid waters of the Northeast river and landed at Lane's Ferry on a large rock that has ever since been known as Rocky Point because it is located at a bend in the river, and from which your thriving town has derived its name.

Capt Hilton there met a friendly tribe of Indians called the Burgaws (whence the name of your county seat). This tribe was ruled by a chief named Gaboni. The Indians coming out of the primeval forest were conciliated by the worthy captain by methods not altogether useless in this latter day, which were a brown jug, some bright beads, and a hatchet, in consideration of which the chief gladly conveyed to the captain all the fertile lands adjacent and lying on Rocky Point.

Think what a change has come over this fair county since that wild and savage time. No civilized hand had ever laid ruthless hand on those magnificent forests filled with beats and birds and insects innumerable when the good captain first trod foot thereon; but in the course of time which has passed since that memorable day, the beasts have gone, the forests have given way largely to well tilled and fertile fields that now give up their products to the sustenance and upkeep of man, and the Indians are a memory to be revered amongst our children.

The families who settled on this land all bore names which we now easily recognize: Meares, Moores, Cowans, Ashes, Hills, Waddells, Lanes and Bloodworths; some of these latter are still among you. These people were princes in this new country, living like lords, owning immense bodies of slaves, and were gentlemen. By that I mean that they were not only cultured and observed the outward graces of courtesy toward their fellow men but also they had that true gentleness of conduct and uprightness of heart that fits and describes a gentleman then and now.

In the history of our State and country Rocky Point has well played her part; here were gathered immense stores during the trying days of the civil war, and since that date this community has sent strong and intelligent men to our State Legislature, who, when there, nobly did their duty.

To be a little personal, without offense, I see a few people within my view who did not have the fortune to be born here, but are making the best of that misfortune. Mr. T. E. Hays probably came here some two score years ago; and Mr. E. D. Pearsall came here within my time, about 20 years ago; they came to see and to conquer, but lo, they were conquered by two as fair women, to use their own words, and I know it is true, as ever sun shown on. A fine lot of children tells their story better than I could do. Ah, Mr. Pearsall, Duplin could ill spare you, but she is glad your lines fell in such pleasant places.

I am told that the original Garden of Eden was supposed to be located somewhere between Rocky Point and Lane's Ferry. As I look around me I can well believe it; at any rate, the daughters of Eve are right here yet and where they are it is not such a long journey ether to the Garden of Eden, or Paradise either.

About the time that Mr. Pearsall came down here from Duplin (I don't know whether he brought the idea with him or not) any way about that time this community began to go into the culture of berries, at first cautiously, almost timidly, I suppose, but at length the industry has grown from about 1,000 crates in 1890 to 17,351 this past season. And kindred fruits and vegetables have also been and are being grown here for the northern markets. All this strip of land between here and Goldsboro is a God favored region, sun-kissed, fertile, the garden spot of the world, blessed with the most salubrious climate, and destined to be the greatest garden spot of the world in time to come. I venture the prophecy gentlemen and ladies that in a few years we shall have to have this railroad double tracked to carry our truck and fruit away to less favored sections. And of this section I have just spoken of, Rocky Point, is probably the most favorably situated of them all. By looking at the map of this good old State you will see an indenture in our jagged coast line known as Onslow Bay. From this body the soft warm winds of the gulf stream sweep across the land to this community and the life—giving touch of its breath ripens the first strawberries, peaches, pears, plums and other fruits in North Carolina.

In the early years of this community it got its schooling in a little log school house; and God bless those rustic houses, they have made many a good man and true woman with the aid of their hickory or birch and their blue backed speller. Ah ladies and gentlemen that was a combination and a basis upon which many a noble structure of womanhood and manhood has been raised to superlative heights. I would not have this good State or this enlightened county remitted to the days of the log school house but I see no use of altogether abandoning the other instruments of education in other communities for, of course, the boys and girls in this vicinity never need them. The first duty of a State is to give every bay and girl in its borders a preparation for life; a training that will enable each child to earn its living; to be a producer and to enable him to properly appreciate it, his relation both to the government and to every other citizen. He must understand the rights of other people and respect them; and expect to receive the same respect from them; he must know that the government is for him; not that he is for the government. The hope of the State and Nation is in the preparation of its children for the great duties and high responsibilities of life and of citizenship.

By slow but sure degrees the State is raising the standards of the public schools. The public high school has been established which leads ambitious boys and girls to the gates of the college; and industrial schools for those not prepared for college are already provided. The most phenomenal period in North Carolina's history has been since Gov. Aycock lifted up the educational banner and led in the unparalleled school and college growth this State has experienced. North Carolina has surpassed even Massachusetts in the percentage of increase of the average intelligence and in a corresponding decrease of illiteracy.

And when you children come from school you will find life fraught with difficult problems, and you will be surrounded by obstacles that appear insurmountable. But if you have courage if you have faith, if you have a smile for every dark place, you will discover that no stronghold is impenetrable, that no endeavor will be abortive if the hope is rightly conceived and is supported with reason. Nothing is impossble for him who strives with love and wisdom to serve his fellow man. And it is in service to others that the truest joy and the greatest happiness is found.

When President Pedro Montt, of Chili, and his wife recent visited this country an important feature of ther sojourn was their visit to President and Mrs. Taft at their Summer home at Beverly, Massachusetts. Major General Wm. H. Carter, chief of staff of the war department, and Capt. Harry H. Huse met the distinguished visitors in New York in full uniform and accompanied them to Beverly where the party was most hospitably entertained by President and Mrs. Taft.

Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the result in her case. "After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so-called cures, I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." Robt. R. Bellamy.

RELIGIOUS LIFE OF COUNTRY

Interesting Publication From Census Bureau Regarding Religious Beliefs of People of United States —Many Sects.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Religious freedom in the United States shelters under its tolerant and ample folds thousands of representatives of a number of the so-called heathen beliefs, in addition to more than 200 various sects of Christianity, according to Census Bureau statistics dealing with the religious life of the country. Among the former are Buddhists, Confucianists and Bahaists who are engaged in an organized way in the spread of their doctrines in this country.

The data forming the basis of the volume in question was gathered in 1906. It is now in proof, but there is no assurance as to when it will be given to the public. In addition to statistics of the various denominations, the work will present a brief history of each; also the pertinent facts regarding their doctrine and polity. The compilation is the work of Dr. T. C. Bliss.

Up to the time of the investigation there had been no effort to effect any organization for the promotion of Confucianism, but the text tells of a society of the Chinese sage's followers which was organized in New York City in 1907 among the Mongolian students in Columbia University. Contending that Buddhism is only a system of ethics, they undertook to demonstrate that Confucianism was a real religion and so a regular system of services was established by a well defined organization.

The organized followers of Buddhism are Chinese and Japanese. Their churches, known officially as "temples" by the irreverent are referred to as "Joss" houses. There are 62 Chinese and 12 Japanese temples in this country, the former being distributed over 12, the latter over three States. California shelters all but three of the Japanese and more than half of the Chinese houses. About 40 which went down under the San Francisco cataclysm had remained in ruins to the time of the enumeration.

New York boasted 15 of the Chinese temples, the remainder being scattered over ten States, mostly in the West. The Chinese Buddhists have only one priest in this country and conduct no recognized system of worship.

There is no record of membership; bath and have no religious service. The only use for their temples are they have no sermon; keep no Sabas places at which individual devotees may consult their patron saints. Three deities are recognized in the American temples. The God Kuan, a mighty duke of the ancient Han dynasty; the Goddess of Fortune and the Goddess of Mercy.

The American-Japanese Buddhists are of the progressive Shin Shiu sect, which is missionary in character. They discard the ascetic practices of the more austere Buddhists of Asia, allow the priests to marry and have no ban on meat or other food. The societies are well organized, each having a priest. General headquarters are in San Francisco, and they have both journals and schools devoted to the preperation of the faith. In 1906 their membership in this country was 2,307, of which 778 were females.

There is no Shintoism, an explanation which is found in the fact that this religion attaches itself too close-

TOURING CLUB OF AMERICA

Many Inquiries for Routes for Summer Travel—American Motorists Represented at Brussels. Through New England and Elsewhere.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Aug. 13. — Many inquiries have been made at the Touring Club of America regarding touring conditions on Cape Cod and other sections of New England along the seashore since A. L. Westgard, who mapped out thhe popular Ideal Tour a few years ago, completed the first stage of his investigating tour to lay out a new route for Summer travel.

The tour, just completed, traverses, but in a reverse direction, several sections of the well-known Ideal Tour from New York to the White Mountains and Poland Springs. The charm of traveling over the accustomed route in the opposite direction as occure on the run from Boston to Portland and through the White Mountain country, lies in the fact that the tourists view the landscape from an entirely different viewpoint, thereby making the trip virtually a new one.

The road conditions along these portions of the Ideal Tour, despite the fact that hundreds of motorists travel over them every Summer, were found to be in most excellent condition.

Touring throughout all the New England resorts, according to the reports from the leading centers, is more popular this year than ever before. Branching off from the Ideal Tour at many of its most beautiful points, a number of minor tours of from a half day to a day's duration have been laid out, and for motorists with a few extra days to spend, these shorter trips through little known localities have been among the surprising and enjoyable features of the entire journey.

Mr. Westgard will this week start out to complete the rout by touring through the Catskills and visiting Cooperstown, Saratoga and Lake George regions.

America was well represented at the Second International Road Congress, which convened in Brussels last week. The only representative from any recognized automobile organization in the United States is Joseph W. Jones, president of the Touring Club of America, Broadway and Seventy-sixth street, New York City. Mr. Jones sailed for Europe over a month ago with his Peerless car, to make a personal study of road conditions in the British Isles and on the continent, and recently finished a tour of several thousand miles. Logan Waller Page, director of the United States Office of Public Roads, appointed, in addition to Mr. Jones, the following delegates, all of whom represented the United States Government, in audition to their respective organizations: Col. Spencer Cosby, chairman United States Corps of Engineers, Washington, D. C.; Clifford Richardson, New York Testing Laboratory, New York City; Harold Parker, Masachusetts Highway Commission, Boston, Mass.; Nelson P. Lewis, Chief Engineer Board of Estimate and Apportionment, New York City; John M. Goodall, editor Record, New York City.

The importance of this International Congress l ies in the fact that the ablest engineers and road experts of the civilized world are numbered among the delegates, and the discussions regardng road building problems are of great value in suggesting means for the improvement and bet-ly to the person of the Japanese Emperor.

In a way the Hindu religion is represented by the Vadanta Society, with organizations in New York, Pittsburg, San Francisco and Los Angeles. It was organized by some Hindu teachers who came here in 1893 to the World's Fair, its name from an ancient Hindu philosophy meaning "the end of all wisdom." It is non-sectarian, seeking to harmonize all religious systems. Oriental philosophies as taught by the Theosophists, have four bodies with 2,336 members in the United States.

While Bahaism, strictly speaking, is non-Christian and foreign, tis followers are native and not necessarily un-Christian. This is a comparatively new sect, growing out of the teachings of a Persian leader of the middle of the last century, named Ali Mohammed. He claimed to be the forerunner "of him whom God would manifest," and called himself "Bab" or "the Gate." Later came Baha Ulla, who claimed to be the one whose coming had been foretold, and from him the real name of the body is derived. In 1906 he had 1,280 followers in the United States, who worshipped in 24 places through 14 States. They teach tolerance, love, charity and regard all religions as divine. Hence, they profess not to interfere with the ordinary doctrinal beliefs of their members.

Another church of Asiatic origin, but still Christian is the Armenian, which has 73 organizations in this country, most of them in the Eastern States, 29 in Massachusetts alone. Their communicants are generally Armenians, many of whom fled to this country to escape persecution.

The Eastern Orthodox churches, or Greek church, has 129,606 communicants. This is the State church of Russia and Greece. Of the 411 churches here 59 represent the former nationality. There also are Servian and Syrian branches. The Greeks have 324 organizations throughout the country, with New York, Illinois and Massachusetts leading. The Greek membership is 90,751. Twenty-two of the 59 Russian churches are in Pennsylvania.

The volume also will tell of the various Christian sects which are considered more purely American, and will show the various branches thereof. It will show that while there are only 57 main bodies, there are 2 church organizations, many of them professing a faith only a shade different from others. For instance, there are 17 Baptist bodies, 24 Lutheran, 15 Methodist and 12 Presbyterian. The same is true of less known organizations. There are 15 Mennonite, 7 Adventists, 4 Dunker or Dunkard and 4 Quaker of Friend bodies.

There appears no division in either the Roman Catholic or Protestant Episcopal church, although it is shown that efforts to modify their creeds have have resulted in the establishment of independent bodies. They are designated as the Reformed Catholic and the Reformed Episcopal churches, respectively. The Reformed Catholics number only 1,250 communicants while of the Reformed Episcapalians there are about 9,682.

The cause of origin of some of the branches is indicated by the name. For instance, there are General Baptists, Separate Baptists, United Baptists, Free Baptists, Freewill Baptists, United American Freewill Baptists, Primitive Baptists, General Six-Principles Baptists, Seventh Day Baptists, Duck River Baptists, and Two-Seed-in-the-Spirit Predestination Baptists.

The Civil war caused splits, giving rise to Southern Methodist and Southern Baptists bodies. In these churches there is also color division. Two or three churches came into existence just after the close of the war as a protest against political preaching. Many of the branches of the Lutheran church are due to difference in nationality.

Of other branches, besides the Duck River Baptists, owing their names to localities are the River Brethren and the Yorkers, both branches of the Brethren denomination. The former began existence on the Susquehanna river; the latter in York county, Pa. The Brinsers, also Brethren, are called after their first bishop as also the Schweckenfelders.

Three of the newest churches mentioned are composed largely of colored communicants. One of these, the Church of God and Saints of Christ, accepts the Ten Commandments as a positive guide to salvation and uses only scriptural names for its members. The "Church of the Living God" began business in 1899 and already has three branches. The Free Christian Zion church of Christ, founded in 1905, protests against all attempts to tax members for the support of churches.

There were about 700 organizations in the main branch of the Salvation Army, with a membership of about 23,000. There were 455 organizations of Spiritualists with over 35,000 members.

The report records the rapid disappearance of communistic societies, showing that of eight organizations mentioned in the census of 1890, only two are left, the survivors being remnants of the Shakers and of the Amana Society.

HOW TO MAKE THE FAT COMFORTABLE.

If you are fat and have difficulty in breathing or walking or eating and if you find that the heat is exhausting to you during the heated term you will be interested in knowing that the famous Marmola prescription is now being prepared in tablet form and that one of these little tablets taken after each meal and at bedtime will reduce your fat at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day. These tablets stop fat from being made and they assist the body to throw away the fat already made in a natural manner. They are harmless and you will find that their use will build up your system to a higher degree of perfection than ever before. They have perhaps the greatest army of responsible men and women who have written of their effectiveness than any other prescription ever written. You need not diet or exercise and you may eat when and what you will. The food you now eat turns into fat. The food you eat will make no fat if you take a Marmola tablet after the meal; and more than that, you will so strengthen your digestive organs that you will need no assistance in a short time even from Marmola Tablets. Every drug store sells them or you may write the Marmola Company, 606 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich. A case of Marmola Tablets costs only 75 cents everywhere.

ter maintenance of roads extensively used by automobiles and other heavy traffic.

The present season has been a record breaker for the officials of the Touring Club of America, in respect to the numerous demands that have been made for touring information and routes. These requests have come not only from members, but from all parts of the country, and the f act has been illustrated to a marked degree that the desire for long-distance touring is steadily increasing.

The requests for touring information made upon the Touring Club of America plainly show that its a bility to mark out satisfactory routes and furnish a ccurate information has been widely recognized. Many prominent automobile officials of various clubs and State organizations have asked for and used the routes prepared by the club.

Among these tourists well known in the motoring world was T. Ed Bryan, president of the Tampa Automobile Club, Florida. Mr. Bryan shipped his car to Indianapolis and then, following the route mapped out for him by the Touring Club, motored to St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Cedar Rapids and Chicago, then back to Indianapolis, then coming east, stopping at Buffalo, Albany and New York City. Mr. Bryan carried the Touring Club of America flag throughout the entire trip of about 4,000 miles.

Frank H. Wheldon, president of the Automobile Club of Detroit, made a long eastern tour from his city to New York, by way of Buffalo, Syracuse, Rochester and Albany, then going up the Hudson to Saratoga, Lake George, Ausable Chasm, crossing Lake Champlain to Burlington, thence through the Green Mountain country to Brattleboro, Vt., finishing his tour in the Berkshires.

Other prominent officials who have been supplied with routes for long tours are: James Madden, secretary of the North Jersey Automobile Club, a route from New York to Detroit and home by way of Canada; C. A. Clark, president of the Jacksonville Automobile Club, Fla., a tour through the New England States and Canada, Clay W. Holmes, president of the Elmira Automobile Club, route from New York City to Winterhaven, Florida; T. C. Campbell, president of the New Orleans Automobile Club, route from New Orleans to New York via Cincinnati and Chicago; C. H. Raine, president of the Mercantile Bank, Memphis, Tenn., a route from Memphis to New York City by way of Cincinnati, Cleveland, Buffalo and Albany, thence through the New England States; C. O. Lamson, a Chicago, Ill., banker, a long eastern tour through the New England resorts; Congressman W. H. Wiley, of East Orange, a tour through the East followed by the recent shipment of his car to Europe for a long continental tour, the route being prepared by the Touring Club of America.

WORLD'S CONGRESS OF DEAF.

Unique Convention That Will Meet at Colorado Springs Soon.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 13.—Hardly a word will be spoken throughout an entire week's deliberations. Songs will be inaudibly sung. Questions will be discussed without the speaking of a syllable. Debates will be conducted without noise. These are features which will make the World's Congress of the Deaf to be held in Colorado Springs during the week of August 8th to 13th, the most unique as well as one of the most important gatherings to be held in the United States this year.

Representatives from practically every civilized nation will participate in the Congress. France will be officially represented by Monsieur Henri Gaillard, of Paris; Germany by Herr Albin Maria Walzulik, of Altenberg; Ireland by the Rev. Francis Haginn, of Belfast; England by Sir A. H. Fairbairn, of London. The Chinese government has delegated Consul General Li Yung Vew, of San Francisco, to attend; and it is understood that he is to make an official report on the information he may secure which may result in the overthrowing of the superstition in China against the deaf and in the establishment of schools under the auspices of the Imperal government for the education of the deaf. Leaders prominent in America in the education of the deaf will be in attendance; chief among these is Dr. Edward Miner Gallaudet, of Washington.

In the Colorado Springs churches on the Sunday preceding the sessions special services by deaf clergymen, will be held in the sign language. The Congress will convene for its first session at the Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind on Monday, August 8th, at 9 A. M., the Rev. John Walter Michaels, of Little Rock, offering the invocation. Following addresses of welcome by Gov. J. F. Shafroth, Mayor H. F. Avery and others, "America" will be rendered in the sign language by Mrs. Olof Hanson, of Seattle, and four other deaf mutes. Following responses to the addresses of welcome by Alexander Lanier Pach, of Minneapolis, and the foreign representatives, Dr. Gallaudst will speak and President George W. Veditz, of the National Association, will deliver an address. The afternoon will be given over to the meetings of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association and in the evening a reception will be tendered by the superintendent and trustees of the Colorado School for Deaf and Blind.

Tuesday will be given over to an all day outing in the mountains near Colorado Springs. In the evening will be given a moving picture seance, the film showing William George Jones' famous rendition in the sign language of Shakespeare's "Seven Ages." Oscar H. Regensburg, of Los Angeles, will report on the Twenty Thousand Dollar fund being raised by the deaf in the United States. Following will be the midnight session of the "Order of Ancient and Awe-Inspiring O. W. L. S." and also the grand conclave of Kappa Gamma of Gallaudet College.

A debate as to the relative merits of the combined system and the pure oral method will consume practically the entire session Wednesday. A. R. Spear, of Minneapolis, will deliver an address on "The Deaf Man in Business— how best to overcome the prejudice in the path of his employment." In the afternoon, addresses and discussions will be held on the following subjects: "Independent Newspapers for the Deaf;" "Homes for Aged and Infirm Deaf—National and State." In the evening a ball will be given at the pavilion in Stratton Park. Thursday will be spent in a picnic in South Cheyenne Canon and at the Seven Falls. A banquet is arranged for the evening.

Friday and Saturday will both be devoted to business matters. Several committees will report on matters of vital importance to the deaf. During all of the sessions, songs in the sign language will be a part of the programme.

In connection with the convention is to be held an industrial exhibition. It is designed to give concrete evidence of the skill of the deaf as craftsmen, and it is proposed to keep it intact for permanent exhibition at some central location to be selected. The exhibit is in charge of Prof. Warren Robinson, of Delevan, Wis., and is expected to prove of great educational and instructive value.

DEATH SEEMED INEVITABLE.

Frederick Cooper Goes Like Father and Brothers in 29th Year.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 12.—Frederick W. Cooper died here today, his death being remarkable because it occurred in his 29th year.

That was the age at which has father and eight of his father's brothers all died. Illness and not accident was the cause of each of these deaths. Recently Cooper became uneasy as his 29th year approached its half-way mark; a presentment seemed to come to him; and he said, speaking of his 30th birthday next January:

"If I can only live until then why I'll live to be a thousand."

A short time ago when Cooper was taken sick with typhoid fever, the inevitable brooding over the fate of his father and his uncles hastened the progress of the disease. He died while his near relatives were too far away to be summoned to his bedside.

His mother, M. J. Cooper, is returning from Europe on the steamer St. Paul, due in New York tomorrow and his sister, Miss Katherine Cooper, is in Paris. Cooper was prominent here, a member of the Capital City Club and connected with a large cotton firm. He was born in New York.

LINCOLN LITHIA WATER

"BOTTLED AT THE SPRING"

Lincoln Lithia Inn Open to Guests May 15th to October 1st. Literature Upon Request

Do you ever think about the ANALYSIS of the water you are drinking? Do you know that one's life is only so long as the life of the arteries? Arterial Degeneration is due mainly to the absorption of poisons from the intestinal channel and the inability of the system to eliminate these poisons. The skin, the bowels, and the kidneys are the only avenues through which these poisons can be eliminated. A good water is one which gently stimulates the kidneys, liver and bowels. LINCOLN LITHIA does this because it is a diffusible water and contains the alkaline bicarbonates of Lithia, Soda and Magnesia, the best known drugs for the stimulation of these organs and in quantities sufficient to be active and not too active. A good water should not be loaded with undesirable mineral salts; solids harmful to the system and easily deposited in the tissues.

The most recent investigations in Kidney Diseases show common salt (Chloride of Soda) is the worst thing to take into the system; when one has this disease. Lincoln Lithia contains less than the human fluids.

When you buy a Lithia Water, think about what you are getting. Buy LINCOLN LITHIA, it is a delicious table water and contains only desirable mineral solids, the reason it is so universally endorsed by the Best Physicians of the State.

In cases of 12 half gallon bottles, $4.00 and 5 gallon demijohns, $3.00. For sale by druggists and grocers or

WARE-KRAMER DAMAGE SUIT

American Tobacco Company Files Its Answer to Compliant Filed in United States Court at Raleigh, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 13.—In the suit for treble damages under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, brought by the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company of Norfolk, Va., and formerly of Wilson, N. C., against the American Tobacco Company and Wells-Whitehead Tobacco Company, in the United States Circuit Court at Raleigh, the American Tobacco Company filed their answer yesterday. It is a rather long answer, covering 20 typewritten pages.

This is the suit that was brought by the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company against the American Tobacco Company alleging that the American Tobacco Company had violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Law and had conspired to injure the Ware-Kramer Company in its business of manufacturing and selling cigarettes, and attributed its failure and subsequent bankruptcy to the American Tobacco Company, and seeks to hold them responsible in a suit therefor.

The first part of the answer is taken up by denials or admissions of the formal parts of the complaint, such as the incorporation of the plaintiffs and defendants, etc. The answer then goes on to admit or deny, as the case may be, the various other allegations of the complaint with regard to the raising and cultivation of leaf tobacco and its manufacture, denying every allegation of the complaint which in any way reflects upon the American Tobacco Company or that it had restrained its cultivation or had lowered the price, claiming, on the other hand, that the cultivation had rapidly extended and the price rapidly advanced since the formation of the American Tobacco Company, largely because of the activity and enterprise of the American Tobacco Company in making and opening new and larger markets therefor, and that this was particularly true of tobaco raised in North Carolina and Virginia. The defendants admit that before 1890 the price of the raw material and the finished product was established by the operation of natural laws and allege that the same is true of the conditions since 1890, including the present time. The defendants admit that in 1890, Allen & Ginter, W. Duke Sons & Company, William S. Kimbell & Company, Kinney Tobacco Company and Goodwin & Company were bought out by a corporation which was formed for that purpose and called the American Tobacco Company; that at the time these several concerns sold out to the American Tobacco Company, which was prior to the enactment of the Anti-Trust law, the American Tobacco Company had 90 per cent. of the cigarette business, but that since that time many manufacturers of cigarettes and tobacco, who were in business then, have prospered and new manufacturers have entered the field while some of the older manufacturers have left the field, so that today the American Tobacco Company has a less percentage of the whole number of cigarettes manufactured in the United States than they had upon the formation of the company in 1890. The defendants admit that they have carried on their business in the customary way for many years, which is a well established custom in the tobacco business; that they have given coupons, the redemption of which reduces the cost of the manufactured product to the consumers, and they have given away free goods and extensively advertised their goods so as to popularize them and increase the value of theira goodwill.

They allege that the consuming public is the autocrat of the tobacco business and that the favor of the consuming public depends upon their being treated with fairness and good goods, and that the wholesale and retail dealers do not depend upon the American Tobacco Company, but they depend upon the good-will of the consuming public, as must also the manufacturer.

In the complaint it was alleged that the American Tobacco Company had bought the majority of the stock of the Wells-Whitehead Tobacco Company in order to secure the Union label which the latter company had for its packages of "Carolina Brights." The defendants admit that the "Carolina Brights" did bear the Union label, but they also allege that the tobacco workers' label union which owned the Union label were cognizant of the fact that the American Tobacco Company owned the control, and that they did not object to it, but they repeatedly urged the American Tobacco Company to adopt the union label on its goods, which the American Tobacco Company has never done.

They deny that they have ever attempted to exercise any espoinage over the operations of the Ware-Kramer Company, but have met them in competition by fair and open means as they have met all other competitors and they allege that the reason of the Ware-Kramer Company's failure was not because of anything done by the American Tobacco Company, but because of poor business management, lack of ordinary capital and use of modern business methods. They deny absolutely any conspiracy or combination to restrain trade or that they have sought to have a receiver appointed for the plaintiff, and they allege that the plaintiff went into involuntary bankruptcy because a corporation could not become a bankrupt in any other way, but that the proceedings was assented to and cooperated in by the Ware-Kramer Company and its managers, and that it was a proceeding with which the American Tobacco Company had nothing whatever to do.

After answering the allegations serially, the defendants set out what might be termed a general defense of themselves and an exposition of the manner in which the plaintiff has carried on its business, which is as follows:

Paragraph XXI.

"Further answering, these defendants say: That the American Tobacco Company has been engaged in the business of manufacturing cigarettes and tobacco since 1890. It owns stock, but less than a majority, in the American Snuff Company, which is engaged in the manufacture and sale of snuff; and it owns a majority of stock in the American Cigar Company, which is engaged in the manufacture and sale of cigars; and in the British-American Tobacco Company, Limited, which is engaged in the manufacture of tobacco and its products in the United States for sale in foreign countries, and in the manufacture and sale of tobacco and its products in foreign countries. Besides these interests in other corporations, the American Tobacco Company has seen fit, for trade purposes, and in order that those running the particular business might have a direct proprietary interest in such other business, to cause the organization of other corporations to engage in the manufacture and sale of tobacco, or cigarettes, or supplies and materials used in the manufacture of tobacco or cigarettes in which it, the American Tobacco Company, has owned, and yet owns, a majority or all of the stock; it is not and never has been in itself a trust or combination, or in control of any trust or combination; it is not and never has been a holding company, but is a manufacturing and merchandising company, holding stock in other companies as incidental to its main business, and as permitted by the laws of New Jersey, the State of its incorporation, and the laws of North Carolina, one of the States in which it is engaged in business, and in which this suit is brought.

The American Tobacco Company has been successful in the manufacture and sale of tobacco and its products, but its success has not been obtained by the use of illegal means, and has not involved the injury of any part of the community—consumers have not had their prices advanced, farmers have had an increasing demand for the leaf produced by them, and, therefore, an increasing price, and competing manufacturers have come and gone, prospered and failed, according to their ability as manufacturers and merchants; that it has not had the effect of excluding other manufacturers from the field is shown by the fact already alleged that it has now by more than ten per cent., a smaller proportion of the total cigarette business of the United States than it had during the first year after its organization in 1890.

The nature of the tobacco business is such that active competitive methods adopted by manufacturers are necessary for the maintenance and stimulation of the business; but none of these methods are intelligently resorted to, nor can they be effectually resorted to, to crush out competitors; indeed, the use of these methods, so far from crushing competition, helps the business of intelligent competitors by increasing the consumption of the product. These methods, so far as the American Tobacco Company is concerned, have included extensive advertising by billboards, newspapers and magazines, extensive giving away of samples, the use of a coupon or a tag having a redemption value, in this way reducing the price to the consumer, and special inducements to wholesale and retail dealers to induce their increased efforts in the distribution of goods. These methods have been, and are resorted to by the American Tobacco Company, not with the desire, purpose nor effect to crush competitors, but to increase business, restore a lagging business, to introduce new brands, and to renew interest in old brands. These methods are, and have always been characteristic of the tobacco trade, and the American Tobacco Company must use them or lose its business.

In 1904 a concern started in business at Wilson, N. C., called Wafe-Kramer Tobacco Company; these defendants have no knowledge nor information, save as furnished by the amended complaint filed in this cause, as to the identity of that concern with the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company, the plaintiff in this action; but they do know that the two had the same active sales management. Neither the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company that began business in 1904, in Wilson, N. C., nor the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company, the plaintiff in this case, exercised in their respective businesses the requisite suggested in the amended complaint for the successful conduct of a tobacco business, to-wit: ordinary capital, business sagacity, intelligent business methods and integrity. But each of said concerns was built, so far as built at all, upon misrepresentation, villification and abuse of the American Tobacco Company, at home and abroad. By such methods Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company of Wilson, N. C., and later the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company of Norfolk, Va., were able to secure considerable distribution of the cigarettes manufactured by them—that is, they induced wholesale and retail merchants to put cigarettes of their manufacture respectively on sole, and to attempt to induce consumers to take them in preference to cigarettes manufactured by these defendants. These defendants do not believe that either the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company of Wilson, N. C., or the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company of Norfolk, Va., created a real consumers' good will for their cigarettes, but by denunciations of the American Tobacco Company and misrepresentation of its product they did induce many consumers to give a trial to the goods of their manufacture, and without reference to the consumers' demand the goods taken by wholesale and retail merchants made in the aggregate a considerable output, first for the Wilson factory, and then for the Norfolk factory.

* * * * * * * *

That these defendants having neither a talent nor a disposition for misrepresentation, slander and abuse, did attempt to meet the competition of the plaintiff the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company, as well as of the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company of Wilson, N. C., in the ordinary ways, towit: by attempting to furnish satisfactory goods, by the cutting of price of goods, whether to consumers by the insertion of coupons or to jobbers or retailers by reduction of prices or increase of discounts; but these defendants expressly and emphatically allege that even under the provocation of abuse, denunciation and misrepresentation, they did not resort to unfair or oppressive practices, or use any illegal or unusual method of competition."

Now that the defendants have filed their answer, the case is at issue and the trial will be had in Raleigh at some future date. It is not likely that it will be tried, however, until after the decision by the United States Supreme Court of the government's suit against the American Tobacco Company, which involves almost all of the questions of law that will be raised in this case.

HELMETS FOR RECUES

New and Effective Apparatus For The Work.

In northeastern Pennsylvania the principal hard coal mining companies have equipped themselves with a new and very effective rescue apparatus. It is a helmet, combined with oxygen tanks which carry a supply of pure air for the rescuer.

The helmets were purchased, and installed in special quarter sat the various mining centres, some time before the United States Government decided to establish rescue stations. The Government station in the anthracite region, if it is called upon at all, will probably be of most use to the smaller concerns—the individual operators—as the larger companies have made it a practice to keep on hand a large rescue equipment.

Every promising device is tested, in order that no chance of saving endangered miners may be lost. The invention that has recently gained much favor is known as the Draeger apparatus. The oxygen tanks, carried on the man's back, connect with an air-tight helmet and supply it with a continuous flow of air. Potash cartridges, through which exhaled air passes and is purified, enable the original supply to be used over again. The rescuer can breath freely to for two hours before the first oxygen tanks have to be replaced by new ones.

The anthracite mining companies have corps of their employes trained in the use of the helmets. Frequently there are drills in which the men go into mine chambers filled with deadly gas or sulphur fumes. Thus they become familiar with the conditions they would have to face in the event of real danger.

CARE OF CHILDREN.

Feature of Mexican Centennial at Mexico City.

Mexico City, Aug. 6.—In addition to their plan to give clothing to 5,000 poor children of the public schools during the centennial independence celebration in Mexico next month the ladies of the Society of the Protection of School Cchildren Purposes several permanent charities, such as the establishment of restaurants for pupils who are often compelled to attend school without sufficient nourishment, and a shop in which clothing for the children will be made.

The ladies have issued a circular appealing to the merchants of the capital for their assistance.

The restaurant plan contemplates giving wholesome food to all children who may be certified by their teachers as being too poor to obtain enough to eat otherwise. In the clothing shop many persons will be employed to make garments for the little ones.

Some of the most influential women in the capital are behind the movement to help the school children. They insist that this is the noblest work that has been undertaken this centennial year, and they are finding many supporters among those who are able to give to aid the cause in which they are engaged.

CHILD MORTALITY IN SUMMER

Every summer the newspapers are full of horrifying stories of the death list among infants and children and extremely old people. In nursing infants and children still being fed largely on milk this is usually due to the quality of the milk itself, and in aged people to a general weakening of the system because of extreme heat. Still, a great many of the deaths are due to digestive trouble, and these can usually be avoided by the timely use of a reliable laxative-tonic. There is no remedy for this purpose that lends itself better to the uses of children and aged people than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which for a generation has been the reliance of thousands of mothers and which is gaining in favor every year. This remedy, unlike a purgative, salt, laxative water or "infant medicine," contains nothing that is dangerous to the health of the weakest or youngest person, and its repeated use does not form a habit, as is the case with narcotic remedies for children. Go to your druggist this very day and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle, and like thousands of other parents, keep it on hand for an emergency. You can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing

You Could Earn Far More If You Didn't Drink

LET'S forget sentiment in looking at this drinking question, and get down to hard-pan business facts.

Drinking cuts down your earning power. And in time will cut it off altogether. Because people lose confidence in a man who drinks. If you are working for yourself you will lose your customers—and if you work for some one else you'll lose your job.

You may shut your eyes to this fact for a time—and try to think you are an exception to the rule. But you're not. For as long as you have a cause you will have an effect. Just as long as you keep on drinking it will cost you a big money loss. A greater and greater loss as time goes on, until it amounts to hundreds or even thousands of dollars every year.

There's just one way to stop all this loss and that is to get at the root of things. Cut out the effect by cutting out the cause—the desire for drink.

Come to the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, and you will get all your old earning power back again. In four weeks of our treatment you will be just as keen a business man as you ever were. With all your old energy, clear judgment and steady nerves. And the cure will be worth a thousand times what it cost.

Think of yourself and your future—and act now. Send for our booklet. It's free on request.

WEEK'S DOINGS AT LUMBERTON

Congressional Situation Viewed With Interest—Excursions Well Patronized—Disorderly Conduct to be Up—Personal Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 13.—Much interest is being manifested here in the proceedings of the committee now investigating the Congressional controversy at Wrightsville, and as we see it, whatever may be the outcome of the investigation, there is still going to be dissatisfaction.

Many Godwin people declare that if the decision is against Mr. Godwin he will run independently and be elected anyhow, while other friends of his say they will abide the decision of the committee and support whoever is declared the nominee. A good many people here are of the opinion that no nomination has been made. Unless something unforseen transpires to change the situation the usually large Democratic majority for Congressman in this county may be expected to be reduced in November. We make this prediction whether it is verified or not.

In their efforts to damage him the political enemies of Clerk of the Court W. H. Humphrey, who stands for reelection at the coming primaries are making votes for him on all sides. When people get busy and start out to try to defeat a man for office the best thing to do is to tell the truth or nothing. Mr. Humphrey is charged with having written letters to Republicans asking them if they would endorse him for clerk in case he was defeated in the Democratic primaries. No one who knows Mr. Humphrey will believe such rot, and although he offers $100 for any such letter we have not heard of one coming forth yet. People who are exerting themselves in the effort to create strife had better save themselves until later in the campaign when all the combined powers of the friends of the different candidates now before the people, may be needed to "Hold Robeson and Save the State." If any Republican has received any letter from Mr. Humphrey asking for any such thing he can get his hundred dollars by bringing it in, so Mr. Humphrey says.

Deputy Sheriff Sessions, of Conway, S. C., spent Wednesday here in search of Harrison Rowell, a young white man wanted in that town on various charges. Being unsuccessful in his search the officer decded to go up to Pembroke and spend the night with his sister who resides at that place. On arrival there he "butted" right into the man he was looking for and returned with him to Lumberton on the next train. Deputy Sessions left with his prisoner for home Thursday morning.

Mayor Rowland and Chief Redfern are to be commended for the effort they are making to break up the disorderly conduct which some of the young men seem to think is fun. Several of them have paid their fines and costs during the past few days because they were naughty boys at night when they should have been at home. The officials declare they must have order and the boys are going to be good and do better. There is one law, however, which when enforced will mean a dozen policemen on the job for a while. When they learn people not to leave their horses standing unhitched on the street without someone looking out for them t will be a cold day in August. We noticed three horses standing within 100 yards of each other one day last week, unattended and unhitched.

Over 300 colored people went from here to Wilmington on the excursion yesterday. People in this section, both white and colored, have been great excursion patrons this Summer and already we hear of many who expect to go on the mountain excursion which will be run from Wlmington on the 23rd. We understand that arrangements are being made to run another excursion to Johnson City about September 1st, which is to be operated for the benefit of the farmers. Many who took that trip a few days ago will be ready to go again.

Beginning August 1st, Bellamy, two miles below Allenton on the Seaboard, was made a flag station for trains Nos. 40 and 45. That is certainly a good thing for the many people in that section. They can come to Lumberton at 7:15 A .M. and return at 9:50 the same morning. No other passenger trains stop there. It would be hard to improve on our railroad service. We have trains in and out in all directions by 10 o'clock in the morning, the first arriving at 7:15 from Wilmington; from Fayetteville at 8:35, from Charlotte at 9:50 and from Marion, S. C., at 10. The same in the evening from 5:30 to 9:47, except no train leaves for Marion after 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Julia Dees, who has been almost an invalid since last March, as the result of an attack of rheumatism, is again able to get out and take short walks though she is still very feeble.

The Eagle Furniture Co., of this place, is making arrangements for a neat display of pianos at Rowland next Wednesday and Thursday. On Thursday evening they will give a musical entertainment in the graded school auditorium, in which the well known Truman Quartette, of Lumberton, will take part.

We understand that the large timber deal which was closed here Wednesday by which the Kingsdale Lumber Co., purchased from Mr. J. B. Rozier ,attorney for his father, Dr. S. B. Rozier, 11,000,000 feet of timber for $35,000, was made through Dr. R. G. Rozier and Mr. O. M. Britt, and not the A. K. J. W. Co., as has been reported. Mr. Britt is timber inspector for the Kingsdale Lumber Co., and Dr. R. G. Rozier is a son of Dr. S. B. Rozier. The purchaser says he did not know the real estate agency in the deal at all.

A colored man who recently died in this section, made a confession, which if made public would cause a few white men to feel shaky. The deceased was visited in his last sickness by one of his white friends whom the poor negro had seemed to take great pleasure in serving while in good health. To this friend the sick man said that he wanted to tell him a few things before he died, as he did not want to die and have it untold. He then proceeded to tell about the different things he had stolen, even mentioning the different people from whom he had stolen chickens, and gave the names of three young white men who had accompanied and assisted him in his chicken raids. The negro is dead but the white men are still here.

The V. & C. S. is now running regular trains, mixed passenger and freight, to Tar Heel in Bladen county. Trains were put on the 10th and business began to same day.

The motion pcture show at the opera house continues to please large crowds. The primary classes of the Baptist and Presbyterian Sunday Schools have been entertained by the management of the show this week, and others will be entertained next week, beginning with the Methodist Monday evenng. It is a pleasure to see the little ones enjoy the pictures.

This section was visited yesterday afternoon by the most severe electrical storm of the Summer. The steepie on the colored Presbyterian Church was struck and badly damaged, and the home of Ed Love, a colored man residing in North Lumberton, was also struck, but the damage was slight. Love's wife was engaged at the time in ironing clothes, heating the irons in an open fire place. She was in the act of picking up an iron when the flash came down the chimney. She was considerably shocked but soon recovered.

The Seaboard is arranging to put in a new siding leading to the plant of the Kingsdale mill. By the construction of the new track the Seaboard will do much of the shifting which is now done by the Raleigh & Charleston.

The Farmers' Union picnic which was gven at Saddle Tree Thursday was attended by over 1,500 people, many of whom were from here. It is said to have been a great day.

Mr. W. B. Hilburn, for the past several months first trick operator at the Seaboard station here, left Thursday evening for Middendorf, S. C., where he went to assume the duties of agent for the S. A. L. During his stay here Mr. Hilburn has, by his unifrom courtesy to all with whom he came in contact, made many friends who regret his departure but rejoice at his promotion. Mr. Hilburn's successor was expected to arrve here last nght.

The colored excursion which went to Wilmington yesterday returned last night about 11 o'clock. The conduct on the trip is said to have been far superior to that on the recent annual Sunday School excursion run for white people from the same territory as the colored excursion yesterday. Sad to relate, but it's facts. After the Lumberton crowd arrived here last night, however, and had left the train, two or three got ugly and were given accommodations for the night in the guard house.

Messrs. Regan & Regan have sold their grocery business on South Elm street to Mr. T. W. Bullock, who has for several years been the very clever and efficient agent for the R. & C. at this place. Mr. Bullock has tendered his resignation to take effect not later than August 31st, at which time he will assume control of the grocery business, which will be known as the King Grocery Co. Until Mr. Bullock is ready to take charge of the business Mr. Alex Regan will remain in controll.

Lon Holmes, a Croatan, while working on the new house which is being erected by Mr. A. C. Spivey, fell from the building Wednesday breaking his leg. He received no other severe injuries.

Mr. R. D. Caldwell spent yesterday at Wagram on business for his firm.

Mr. W. B. Davis, who holds a position in the Lumberton Cotton Mills store in East Lumberton, has been taking hs vacation ths week and spent the time quietly at home in town.

Mr. Henry Jones has resigned his position in the office of Mr. J. F. Head, traffic manager of the V. & C. S. and his place is being filled at present by Miss Della Wishart.

Mrs. S. A. Kaneer and daughter, Miss Mollie, who have been spending some tme here at the home of Mr. J. W. Kaneer, left Thursday morning for their home at Gastonia——In the absence of Rev. E. M. Hoyle, pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. J. D. Bundy, a former pastor, will preach in that church tomorrow night.

Miss Bessie McLeod, of Alma, who has been visitng at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barker, returned home yesterday morning——Mrs. R. A. Edmund and children left yesterday morning for Lumber Bridge where they will spend two or three days with relatives.

Mr. Casper Smith, after spending several days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith, returned yesterday to Warrenton, where he has for the past two or three years held a positon n a drug store——Miss Jeannette Holloway, who has been spending some time here at the home of her brother, Mr. Holloway, left yesterday for her home in Maryland.

Mrs. Richard Norment went to Laurinburg yesterday morning to spend the day with relatives, returnng last night——Mr. J. A. Bethea, postal clerk between Lumberton and Marion is off on his vacation, his place being filled by Clerk R. E. Riddle, of Burlington—Mrs. A. T. McLean and child left yesterday evening for Arden, N. C., where she will join her sister, Mrs. H. B. Jennings, who is spending some time at that popular Summer resort.

Miss Ethel Hammond, of Laurinburg, is vsiting Miss Della Wishart on Fifth street——Mrs. C. F. Summers, of Greenwood, S. C., arrived Thursday night to spend some time with her sister, Mrs. J. A. Sharpe——Mrs. T. A. Norment and little daughter are spending several days at Wrightsville——Col. and Mrs. N. A. McLean and two children left yesterday evening for Sapphire, a famous Summer resort in Western North Carolina. Col. McLean has not entirely recovered from his recent sickness and it is greatly hoped that his visit to the mountains will result in his rapid restoration to good health.

Deputy Sheriff T. C. Barnes, who was recently shot while arresting some negroes at Maxton, was able to be out this morning and thinks he will be able to resume his duties in a short time.

Deputy Sheriff Spivey left this morning for Old Kingsdale where it was expected a runaway couple would meet. A married woman is said to have gone down there to meet a married man, and then they were to elope together. A warrant was sworn out by the man's wife.

Prof. R. C. Sentelle and family who have been spending the Summer at their mountain home near Waynesville, returned last night. Prof Sentelle will be busy from now until time for the graded school to open getting things in shape for the Fall session which opens about September 15th.

We learn that Mr. W. B. Webb and family, who have been living here for the past year or two, will in a short time remove to Fayetteville.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Head died yesterday at noon, and the remains were carried to Wilmngton this morning for interment in Oakdale cemetery this afternoon, accompanied by the grief-strcken father, Mr. E. B. Huggins and Mrs. T. V. Moore, a sster-n-law of Mr. Head.

ROOSEVELT MAY PRESIDE

Over Republican State Convention at Saratoga Next Month.

New York, Aug. 12.—Ex-President Roosevelt in all probability will attend the Republican State Convention at Saratoga next month. He said today that if he should be selected as a delegate from Nassau county he would attend, and that in that case he would probably make a speech.

It was suggested to him some time ago that his act as temporary chairman of the convention. Today Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican County Committee, had luncheon with him. Colonel Roosevelt said, after he had seen Mr. Griscom, that he was thinking over the suggestion that he act as temporary chairman.

Should Colonel Roosevelt deliver an address, it is expected that he will make a strong defense of the Hughes administration and the reforms for which Governor Hughes has stood. Colonel Roosevelt is known to entertain strong views as to what the Republican party must do to carry the State this fall.

S. S. S. DRIVES OUT BLOOD HUMORS

When we see persons with soft, smooth skins we know at once that their blood is pure and healthy, that the cuticle is being sufficiently and properly nourished by the circulation. But when the blood becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by eruptions, boils, pimples, or some more definitely marked skin disease such as Eczema, Acne, Tetter, etc. Humors get into the blood usually, because of a sluggish condition of those members whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse matter of the system. This unhealthy matter, left in the system, sours and ferments and is soon absorbed into the circulation, filling the blood with an irritating humor. Remove these humors and the skin disease can not exist, because its very cause is then destroyed. S. S. S. cures all humors of the blood because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It cleanses the blood of every particle of unhealthy matter, enriches the circulation and causes it to supply healthful nourishment to all skin tissues. Then the skin becomes soft and clear. Local applications can not cure, they can only soothe by temporarily reducing the in ammation, but the cause remains in the circulation and the eruption will be no nearer well when the external treatment is left off. The humors must be removed and nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. Pure blood makes healthy skins and S. S. S. makes pure blood. Book on Skin Diseases free to all who write and request it.

BEARS RULED COTTON MARKET

Aggressive Selling Caused Sharp Break in Prices Yesterday—Opened, and Closed Steady—Effect of Crop Reports.

New York, Aug. 13.—Prospects for rain in Texas over Sunday encouraged aggressive selling by local bears in the cotton market today, and there was a sharp break in prices, with the close steady on covering, and four to five points up from the lowest, but at a net decline of 11 to 20 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1 point on July and August, but generally 2 to 5 points lower. Cables were about as due, reviews of the dry goods trade were bullish, with large sales of goods reported at Fall River, and the statistical situation as reflected by the futures compiled late yesterday was in favor of prices. These factors encouraged some buying at the intial decline, and prices were pretty well sustained for the first fe wminutes, but no aggressive support was in evidence, and later local bears became more aggressive, while liquidation grew heavier and stop loss orders were uncovered on a scal edown to a net loss of about 17 to 24 points. October contracts sold at 13.49, or 45 points below the high record of the week. At this level profit-taking by shorts checked the downward movement and caused slight rallies, but sentiment still seemed to be more or less unsettled at the close. The Western belt forecast calling for lower temperatures and showers in North Texas did not seem to promise any break in the drouth over south and central Texas, but there was a low barometer over Abilene, and the local traders appeared to be looking for rain in the drought section before the reopening of the market on Monday. Elsewhere in the belt the weather was considered favorable, and reports of improved conditions in sections east of the Mississippi river, and also in Oklahoma and North Texas, seemed to be attracting more attention. Sales of print cloths at Fall River for the week were estimated at 365,000 pieces, and it is said that some of the mills are talking of a temporary suspension of the curtailment in manufacture.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today, 4,873 bales, against 942 last week and 2,806 last year. For the week 25,000 bales, against 11,301 last week and 14,398 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 273 bales, against 887 last year, and at Houston 4,741 bales against 602 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands, 15.60; middling gulf, 15.85; no sales.

LIQUIDATION IN COTTON.

Was the Order on the Market Yesterday—Crops Unheeded.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Aug. 13.—Liquidation was the order today, and Liverpool advices of no special moment, the market turning weak at the opening, and took the offering at receding figures. Poor reports from Texas were unheeded, the trade has worried over them and were affected by Bradstreet's, which was encouraging. The selling pressure was decided, and despite the Texas scare, present prices are considered to discount much, and many in the South are satisfied in the accepting of current figures. The cloudy weather in the threatened part of Texas encouraged local sellers.

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove it's a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains, and corns. Try it. 25c at Robt. R. Bellamy.

STRENGTH SHOWN IN STOCKS

Developed Quietly on the Market Yesterday—Professional Element Was Suspicious—American Smelting Down.

New York, Aug. 13.—There was the same show of quiet strength in the stock market today that developed yesterday. The professional element was suspicious of the movement, and was cautious in attempting to follow it, owing to the doubts as to its origin and motive. Organized support by strong financial interests was inferred from the manner in which stocks were absorbed and prices advanced. American Smelting turned with the rest of the market, and the cessatioon of weakness in that stock proved a relief to the general list.

There was a supposition that a demonstration of confidence to the country was intended by the renewed advance in stocks, for the purpose of stimulating some revival of flagging trade activity. The rigid conservatism of the New York banks in conceding credit facilities, especially in the purchase of mercantile paper and in making time loans, is said to have begotten a spirit of uneasiness through the country. There was some talk today of a change in this policy on the part of the New York money lenders, and the talk had an effect on the tone of the stock market. Inquiry failed to confirm the reports, beyond the statement that slightly increased demand for mercantile paper had sprung up with the piling up of New York surplus reserves. Concessions on rates however, are confined to the shorter maturities, and six months' paper of the first grade still holds at 5 1-2 to 6 per cent. The week's more hopeful feeling over the crop outlook still held today.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $779,500. United States 2s registered have risen 1-4, and the coupons 3-8 per cent in the bid price on call since last wek. Total sales for the day, 213,900 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Purchases of wheat by foreigners had much to do with making higher prices here today. In addition, the Illinois state report indicating a crop of one million bushels less than the federal estimate was a bullish influence. The close which was at nearly the best figures of the session, showed a net advance of 1-2 to 3-4c. Other grains finished lower; corn 7-8 to 1 1-8 and oats 1-4 to 1-2. Provisions gained 10 to 35c.

Wheat—No. 1 red 1.03 1-2 to 1.04 1-2; No. 2 red 1.03 1-4 to 1.04; No. 3 red 1.02 to 1.03 1-2; No. 1 hard 1.03 1-2 to 1.04 1-2; No. 2 hard 1.03 1-4 to 1.08; No. 3 hard 1.02 1-2 to 1.03 1-2; No. 1 northern (old) 1.25 1-2; No. 1 spring new 1.15; No. 2 spring new 1.07 to 1.11; No. 2 spring 1.07 to 1.09; No. 3 spring 1.04 to 1.08; durum 90 to 97.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 13.—The markets were firm for the day, with cotton goods showing a still greater hardening tendency. Yarns are firm. Jobbers are beginning to buy more freely in this market.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION.

United States Revenue Cutter Service to New London.

Newport News, Va., Aug. 13.—The School of Instruction of the United States Revenue Cutter Service was practically moved from its present site, Arundel Cove, Md., when Congress passed an act transferring Fort Trumbull, at New London, Conn., from the War Department to the Revenue Cutter Service. For the past nine years the School of Instruction has been situated at Arundel Cove. The cutters of the service repair at the yard which is maintained at that place also, and all of the construction work such as boat building, minor machinery sails, and other repairs, together with the shops, have afforded splendid opportunities to the cadets ofr practical instruction, as well as theoretical.

The cadets lived in the historic old sloop of war "Dale" and the beautiful old revenue cutter training barque "Chase." The "Dale" was commanded by Dewey, Sigsbee, Truxton, and many other notable seagoing officers. She is now called the "Oriole," is housed over, has roomy comfortable quarters, and a splendid dance floor on her spar deck. She is a fine old relic, and the cadets have a feeling for her. The "Chase" was put out of commission about two years ago and is used for cadets' quarters too. She has been well known all up and down Chesapeake Bay and on the Atlantic coast as one of the fastest and most beautiful sailing ships belonging to the Federal government.

These historic old ships and the beautiful grounds and waters of Arundel Cove are to be left for more modern conditions of training of the future officers. The social life of the cadets will be more pleasant as the isolation experienced at Arundel Cove will not be found at New London. Better schooling equipments are to be provided so that the young gentlemen can "bone" with more convenience.

Under the present system the revenue cutter cadets study for eight months—from October 1st to May 30th—and cruise four months in the Summer abroad, visiting all the important seaports of Europe. Whether this will be changed to have the cruising done in Winter in Southern waters, is a question of interest to a great many people. The practice cutter "Itasca," a gunboat, is the modern equipped vessel which is used for practical instruction in seamanship and navigation and handling a vessel. She will be used for purposes of instruction and observation while lying at the new school at New London.

The service has been improving wonderfully in the past five years and shows signs of a healthy growth This movement for a new School of Instruction is one welcomed by the friends of the service, and is no doubt a most auspicious one. The three year course of the young gentlemen is a hard, rigorous one and we are glad to see that they are being recognized as in need of better accommodations.

TO START POSTAL BANKS.

Harry H. Thompson is chairman of the special committee, composed of officials of the Postoffice Department, selected by Postmaster General Hitchcock to work out the details for the establishment of the postal savings depositories. Mr. Thompson was born in Washington on May 28, 1868, and educated in the public schools and Columbia College. In 1891 he entered the government service as chief clerk in the paymaster's office of the United States Marine Corps, serving there until 1903, when he was transferred to the Department of Commerce and Labor as cashier of the disbursing clerk. He entered the Postoffice Department in October, 1905, as disbursing clerk, served in that capacity one year, when he was made superintendent of the division of finance in the same department, which position he holds at the present time. Mr. Thompson is a companion of the military order of the Loyal Legion.

EXCURSIONS TO MOUNTAINS

Hundreds Will Probably Take Advantage of Cheap Rates.

The annual mountain excursion from South will be run this year by the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line companies on August 17. It is likely that thousands of people will take advantage of the special rates offered by the two lines, and spend two weeks in the highlands. Both roads offer the same rates to points in several States, the regular round trip being about halved.

The Southern Railway advertises three trains from Charleston for the mountains on August 17. The first will start at 3:20 A. M. The mountain special will leave at 7:30 A. M., and the regular morning train will pull out at 8 A. M.

Over the Atlantic Coast Line the mountain travel to North Carolina will be handled in extra coaches on the regular mountain train leaving Charleston at 5:55 A. M. Other trains will leave Charleston during the day at 5:20 A. M. and 4 and 5:55 P. M. Special effort will be made by Atlantic Coast Line officials to build up business to Washington and Virginia.

PELLAGRA CONFERENCE.

South Carolina Will be Well Represented at Chicago.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 6.—South Carolina will be represented at the third National conference for the study of pellagra which will be held very probably in Chicago during the Fall. It was the intention of those having the matter in charge to meet at Peoria, Ill., but since Chicago is the larger place and, therefore, it will be easier to get a larger crowd there the plans may be changed. Dr. J. W. Babcock, of the State Hospital for the Insane, will probably deliver an address on "Pellagra in South Carolina." This State is to be made the center for the study of pellagra by the government in the new phase touching a possible cause of the disease. It is interesting to note that two government experts have been stationed here studying the disease—Drs. Lavinder and Long—during the last two years. Pellagra is now known to be prevalent in 29 States of the Union. It has been found in the South, in States as far North as Pennsylvania and out in California.

BIG EXCURSION TO RALEIGH—IT WILL BE THE EXCURSION OF THE YEAR.

Have you given a thought to the fact that there will take place on Thursday, August 25th, the biggest excursion of the Summer season? Have you consequently come to the conclusion that it is an event of which you should not fail to take advantage? Consider these facts. Don't pass up the opportunity of enjoying the greatest excursion ever run to Raleigh, or you will have occasion for regret as long as you live. This excursion will be under the management of Thomas H. Knight, which is sufficient guarantee that it will be the best that can be offered. The excursion will go via the Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Railway. Train will leave here at 5:30 a. m., and the fare is only $1.75 for the round trip. The return trip will be made leaving Raleigh at 10 p. m. same night.

On the Seaboard Mountain Special you will see "Vistas of forest clad summits, rock crests and distant mountain ranges; dizzy heights and deep shadowed gorges." Don't miss
